WPA Orchestra at Auburndale Sept. 7

The Newton WPA Orchestra, Albert H. Webber, supervisor, and Herman C. Sulzen, conductor, presented the tenth in a series of concerts at the "Shell," Commonwealth ave., corner Islington rd., Auburndale, last evening, to an audience of over 3,000 people. The orchestra was augmented by members of the Quincy unit, and their varied program of semi-classical and popular music was greatly appreciated. The guest soloists for the evening were the American Folk Singers of Boston. This unit, the only one of its kind in Massachusetts, composed of 20 negro singers, all professionals, presented a program of old melodies and negro spirituals, under the able directorship of Henry L. Johnson, now residing in Boston, having graduated from the New England Conservatory of Music in 1926.

RICH-JONES WIN CITY DOUBLES TITLE

Paul Rich and Henry Jones, top seeded team in the city doubles championship, won a straight set victory in the final from William Myette and Tom Slattery Tuesday evening at Newton Center playground. The score was 6-2, 6-4, 6-3, and the match required only an hour and fifteen minutes. It was an interesting battle, decided mainly on the sounder court tactics and position play of the Burr combine, who outmaneuvered Slattery and Myette in the crucial games. Slattery, who played on Paul Rich's team at Newton High two and three years ago, won many points outright on breathtaking volleys, but roamed about the forecourt with little regard for his partner's position. This carelessness was perhaps the main weakness of the Newton Centre pair, who volleyed well and came to the net at every opportunity. Jones and Rich each yielded two service games, while Myette's service was broken through three times and Slattery's four times. The last game of the match was the longest, going four times to deuce on Jones' service before it was won. The victory entitled Jones and Rich to be Newton's doubles entry in the New England parks tournament at New Bedford Monday, but it is likely that Jones will withdraw in favor of Mal Clarke, a seasoned tournament player and a worthy substitute.

WEST NEWTON-NEWTONVILLE

Dr. Benjamin T. Marshall, summer preacher, will take as his sermon topic "The responsibility of labor." The music program includes a baritone solo by John Rundlett, "Hear our prayer," by Chenoweth, and soprano solo by Mrs. John Rundlett, "Jesus only," by Rotoli.

Newton Boy Dies of Poliomyelitis

Philip Clark, Jr., 15, of 305 Albe-marle rd., Newtonville, died at the Baker Memorial Hospital, Boston, on Aug. 30, of infantile paralysis. The boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Clark and had been spending the summer at the family camp on Lake Monadnock, East Rindge, New Hampshire. When he was stricken with the disease, he was taken to the hospital at Gardner, Mass., and from there removed to the Baker Memorial Hospital. A number of children in camps at Lake Monadnock complained of sore throats during the summer.

Philip Clark, Jr., was born in Gardner and graduated from the Frank A. Day junior high school last June. He is survived by his parents; two brothers, Donald and David Clark, and a sister, Carol Clark. His funeral was held on Tuesday morning from the Brown Funeral Chapel, Belmont. Burial was in Gardner.

MARTIN WINS SINGLES TITLE FROM PAUL RICH

Don Martin, 33-year old veteran from West Newton, won a decisive four-set victory over Paul Rich of Newton in the final match of the city public parks tennis championship, played Wednesday evening at Burr Playground, Newton. Dropping the first set to his younger opponent, Martin came back with a determined drive that ran out the match at 4-6, 6-4, 6-1, 6-1. Play started at a quarter of six, and it was very dark when Martin broke Rich's service for the ninth time to win the match, a little more than an hour and a half later.

Martin was never in better form, covering court beautifully and varying the pace of his shots in a way that unsettled Rich's timing frequently. Don went to the net occasionally, but usually preferred to play at the baseline, making points on long rallies when Rich ran him to and fro unmercifully, finally to net his uncertain backhand or overhit the baseline.

In the early games, Rich threw his strongest weapon, a flat forehand drive, against Martin's heavily sliced backhand, and just about held his own. After that, it was a baseline duel at high speed for three sets, neither player caring to go to the net often in the fading light.

Rich's wristed service was effective only until he began to breathe hard. The former Newton High captain won on his own delivery only three times in the last three sets. Martin, on the contrary, got better as the evening wore on. His service was broken twice in the first set, once in the second, and once in the third. Martin was keyed to so fine a pitch that for a stretch of seven games he allowed the hard-hitting Rich just seven points, in the last four games of the third set and the first three of the last set. Another interesting angle was Martin's run of eleven consecutive points in the first three games of the final set. Rich had a lead of 30-15 on his service in the first of these games, when Martin began this brief interlude of inspired, errorless tennis, winning that game with three straight points, and taking the next two games at love. The beginning of Martin's hottest stretch, when he gave Rich a point a game for seven games, came after he led two-one in the third set, just after he had negligently dropped his own service at love, giving Rich his only game of the set.

To avoid the confusion that reigned Sunday afternoon, when the final match was called after three sets had been played, the playground department installed Doc Hean as umpire and Leighton Reimer and Nick Tedesco as linesmen. At a crucial moment in the first set, Martin was serving at 30-15, four games apiece. His first service dented the tape clean, but was called out, and Rich took seven of the next eight points to run out the set at 8-4. Point recaptulation shows 32 points apiece for the first set, then 39-35, 28-16 and 33-17 for the other three sets, Martin having the advantage.

Rich put over a discouraging number of net cord shots, but Martin usually had something more convincing to show in return, as when he caught Rich with an artistically cut drop shot that bounded back to his own side of the net. The last game of the match was the longest, going to deuce five times before Rich overdrove the baseline to end it. Rich ignored a custom as old as the game itself when he left the court without a word or a handshake for the man who beat him. The winner, nominated as Newton's entry in the New England parks tournament at New Bedford, next Monday, probably will decline in favor of Rich, who was runner-up in last year's final at Springfield.

Week End Party Ends In Rumpus

A friendly social gathering held by some colored residents of West Newton on Prospect place last Saturday night concluded somewhat roughly and resulted in Melvin Moore, 29, of Prospect street going to the Newton Hospital, and David Evans, 29, of Robin Hood rd., Auburndale, being arrested on charges of drunkenness and disturbing the peace. Patrolmen Eliot and McEneaney went to the house on Prospect place after complaints had been received from neighbors. They found Moore with a badly cut and bruised face. The police alleged that Moore fell down a flight of stairs, and that Evans jumped onto Moore's face. The latter was not at the scene when the police arrived, but came to police headquarters. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday, and released on $500 bail when the case was continued until September 3.

Man Robbed of $2000 in Boston

George Carris of 158 Pearl st., Newton, owner of George's Cafe at 271 Centre st., Newton, was robbed of $2,000 by two men in a hotel at Boston last Thursday. Two of the men pretended to be interested in buying Carris' lunch room, took him to the hotel and became engaged in a card game with him and their companion. According to the complaint alleged to have been made by Carris to Boston police on Monday, he went to the hotel to show $2,000 to show that he could meet obligations in the card game. When he produced the cash, it is alleged the three men took it away from him.

Newton Youth Fined For Bad Driving

John F. Anderson, 20, of 1657 Centre st., Newton Highlands, was fined $20 by Judge Crafts in the Waltham court last Thursday for driving a car so as to endanger the safety of the public. A charge that he failed to stop at a "Stop" sign was placed on file. Serg. Devaney of the Watertown police testified that on July 6 a car driven by Anderson was in an accident on Church st., Watertown, and four persons were injured.

Fined $5 For Profane Language

Guido Di Rienzo of 201 Chapel st., Nonantum, was fined $5 by Judge Allen in the Newton court last Friday for using profane language. He was also given a $20 suspended fine for loitering. Patrolman Francis Barry testified that on the preceding night he arrested a youth at Adams and Middle sts., and ordered a group of young men standing nearby to disperse. Barry said Di Rienzo refused to obey and directed rough language at the patrolman.

Wounded Officer Gets Gold Medal

The New England Police Revolver League this week awarded to Patrolman Lawrence Murphy of the Newton police a gold medal-bar in recognition of the courage and marksmanship he displayed in shooting at and hitting the bandit and murderer Simpson on the night of August 21st. Although he had been shot and critically wounded by a bullet from Simpson's pistol, Murphy drew his revolver and fired several shots after the fleeing outlaw, one of which took effect.

The statement accompanying the trophy reads as follows: "Officer Lawrence E. Murphy is presented a gold honor expert pistol qualification bar by the New England Police Revolver League for his wonderful performance in shooting it out with the bandit Simpson."

"Officer Murphy is an outstanding member on the Newton Police Department No. 1 revolver team. He holds an expert bar of the League. He was shot through the stomach and was lying on the sidewalk when he fired six shots at the bandit, one of which wounded him and no doubt was the direct cause of his capture."

Because of Murphy's critical condition, the medal was quietly presented to him by Chief Hughes on Tuesday at the Newton Hospital. Murphy is still in a very serious condition. The dressing was removed from the wound on Monday and the policeman has slightly improved.

To Build Street to Oak Hill School

A second new street to give access to the new school at Oak Hill will soon be built from Parker st. to the school. Bids for the construction of a road 1400 feet long and 80 feet wide have been asked, and will be opened on Friday of this week at City Hall by Street Commissioner Mahoney. It has been estimated that the street will cost $70,000. While the school was being built last year, Meadowbrook rd. was extended to give access to the school from Dedham st. direction. A drain was built from Parker st. toward the school and it was planned to use the top of the fill over the drain as a footway for the pupils from Parker st. Oak Hill residents, however, have been agitating for the street.

Tenant Tried For Damaging Property

Louis Geravitz of 47 Hansboro st., Dorchester was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with malicious damage to property and larceny of bathroom fixtures. Geravitz was formerly a tenant of Robert Vachon at 78 Langley rd., Newton Centre. The latter charged that when Geravitz moved out he tore fixtures from the bathroom wall, breaking the plaster; tore off window shades, and left the house in a filthy condition. Irving House, inspector of the Health Department, testified that the apartment was in an unsanitary condition. Inspector Hammill testified that he had spoken to Geravitz regarding the fixtures, and the latter claimed he had installed them. Judge Allen found Geravitz not guilty of malicious damage and ordered to make $15 restitution for the fixtures.

DeLucca Held for Superior Court

Antonio DeLucca, Jr., 22, of 173 Chapel st., Nonantum, was arraigned in the Waltham court on Monday charged with a criminal assault on a 15-year-old Cambridge girl. After hearing evidence, Judge Cuniff ordered DeLucca held for trial before the Superior Court. He was released on $1,000 bail. It is alleged that on the night of Aug. 6, DeLucca took the young girl to an isolated part of Waltham and assaulted her. A few hours later as Cambridge policemen drove the girl toward Waltham from her home, she spotted DeLucca in Watertown square and pointed him out as her assailant. DeLucca denies the charge.

FIFTY YEARS OF SECURITY

Fifty years ago the West Newton Savings Bank opened its doors as a public institution. Formed as the result of the confidence of the residents of that village in James H. Nickerson, who for some years had acted as a private banker for numerous persons, the bank steadily grew and prospered. Throughout its fifty years of service the security of the savings of its depositors has been the basic fundamental. Trustees and officers have continually kept before them the principles of integrity and business sagacity exemplified by Mr. Nickerson. We congratulate the West Newton Savings Bank, its officers and personnel and wish for it may more half centuries of service in behalf of the citizens of the community.

AN AWARD OF MERIT

Officer Lawrence E. Murphy of the Newton police force was honored this week by the New England Revolver League for marksmanship and valor. Critically wounded, he displayed extraordinary courage and presence of mind in shooting at the fleeing gunman, murderer of Henry G. Bell, fellow officer. There is little doubt but that the science of ballistics will definitely prove that Officer Murphy's aim was accurate and that the bullet lodged in Edward Simpson's neck was that fired from the Newton motorcycle officer's gun. The award for marksmanship and for valor is most merited. Newton citizens trust that he will be successful in his fight to recover from the effects of his wounds.

A BANNER SUMMER SEASON

With the final holiday week-end of the summer at hand it is interesting to note the reports showing that New England has had a banner season for visitors and vacationists. Not since 1929 have the total figures spent by vacationists approached the half billion dollar mark. Improved business conditions, more extensive advertising and a hotter summer are the outstanding reasons. It is further interesting to note that the historical aspects of the region rank fourth as an attraction to visitors. Swimming, boating, hunting and fishing at the seashore and the mountain lakes are the leading activities of the millions of visitors who have come here during the past few months.

HAVE YOUR AUTO TESTED

The semi-annual check-up for defective automobile brakes and lights began this past week. The coming week-end, the last of the summer season, will see many motorists on the road. For the safety of others, if not for yourself, have your car tested before you start on that holiday trip.

Make-Up Exams At The Warren Junior High School

Make-up examinations will be given at the Warren Junior High School on Friday, September 10, as follows:
9:00 English.
10:10 Mathematics.
11:20 Social Studies.
1:30 Latin, French, Junior Business Training, Typewriting.
2:40 Science.

All students in Junior I and II receiving "2-2" in any subject or an "incomplete" should take the make-up examination in that subject. The passing of this examination removes the failing mark and necessity of a trial period in the fall.

All students in Junior III receiving "3-1" should take the make-up examination. All students in Junior III receiving "2-2" must take the make-up examination and must pass the examination; otherwise, the "3-2" becomes a failing mark and the subject must be repeated at Senior High School, if it is taken at all. Students in Junior III receiving "3-1" should take the make-up examination in that subject in order to receive credits and to remove the necessity of a trial period at Senior High School.

The opportunity to take examinations is not open to those who receive a "3-3" report in a subject, since this is a failing mark and requires a repetition of the subject.

Mr. Scarborough, the principal, will be in his office at the school September 10 from 10:00 a. m. to 12 noon, and from 2:00 to 3:30 in the afternoon to meet parents or students who wish to confer with him relative to promotions or enrollment.

Rotary Club

Mr. P. J. Trevelan, director and manager of the industries and store division of Morgan Memorial, gave a most interesting and challenging talk concerning the work of the well-known social institution at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday.

He told how Morgan Memorial industries utilize thousands of tons of old clothes, shoes, newspapers and furniture to make jobs for 3067 persons and to make possible a renewal of courage and self-respect in the hearts of these men and women. Every bit of wood, cloth, metal, and wood pulp is salvaged for sale to other industries or for manufacturing new articles of value.

He pointed out that the Memorial organization is thus able to create 92 cents out of every dollar which is expended for its work among the needy people of South Boston. The Memorial maintains schools, summer camps, workshops, and homes for the needy and aged, by means of the contributions gathered from 150,000 persons in New England. The Memorial itself has expanded so much that it now occupies four acres of space with a plant valued at about $1,000,000.

Mr. Trevelan pointed out that the salvaging of raw materials of industry is only secondary in importance to the salvaging of men and women. He cited many typical cases in which Morgan Memorial had given men and women a job, a chance to re-create their courage, their self-confidence and their interest in life.

Mayor Kimball will preside and there will be singing by pupils of the Davis School under the direction of Horace Walon. If the weather is stormy, the exercises will be held at City Hall.

The horse ran away and two wheels of the wagon went over the little girl, knocking her down and fracturing her collar bone. The child was picked up by officer Bosworth and taken into her father's store. No blame can be attached to the driver of the horse, who did his best to restrain the frightened animal.

There was a very exciting time at Newton Centre on Thursday over the supposed theft of a horse and buggy. Ex-Mayor Hyde had ordered a team from Pratt's livery stable, and going after it, found a tam hitched in front of the stable. He got into the buggy and drove off. It happened that the horse and buggy belonged to William Bliss, the painter who was going away on business. Not finding the team when he came out of the stable, he supposed it had been stolen, and notified the police. Searchers were sent out in all directions. About two hours later Mr. Hyde came driving back and the explanations that ensued were very amusing to the large crowd that had collected.

Powers' Paragraphs

Frank A. Goodwin, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, has announced another of his numerous edicts regarding the operation of motor vehicles. This time he is quoted as saying that any motorist who drives at night faster than a speed of 45 miles an hour will lose his or her license regardless of pressure or influence. Mr. Goodwin calls attention to the tremendous increase in night time automobile fatalities during the last four months of the year due to "combination of wet roads, and insufficient or glaring headlights." During the past year or so Mr. Goodwin has stated that he would revoke the license of any motorist who was reported officially as operating a car at a speed of over 50 miles an hour. Subsequently he announced he would revoke the license of anyone operating faster than 45 miles per hour. Now, Mr. Goodwin comes out with a 45 miles per hour speed limit for night driving. Apparently the day limit on 45 miles is rescinded.

As regards glaring headlights, Mr. Goodwin announced when he resumed the office of Registrar a couple of years ago, that he would limit the brilliancy of bulbs in headlights to 21 candlepower. This would have effectively reduced the menace of glaring headlights, but, nothing has been done about it. Bulbs of 32 and greater candlepower are in use in headlights with lenses so convex that they glare and throw to both sides, instead of only straight ahead. We would gladly purchase bulbs of only 21 candlepower, but they are not being made, apparently. They would be if Massachusetts or other States would compel their use.

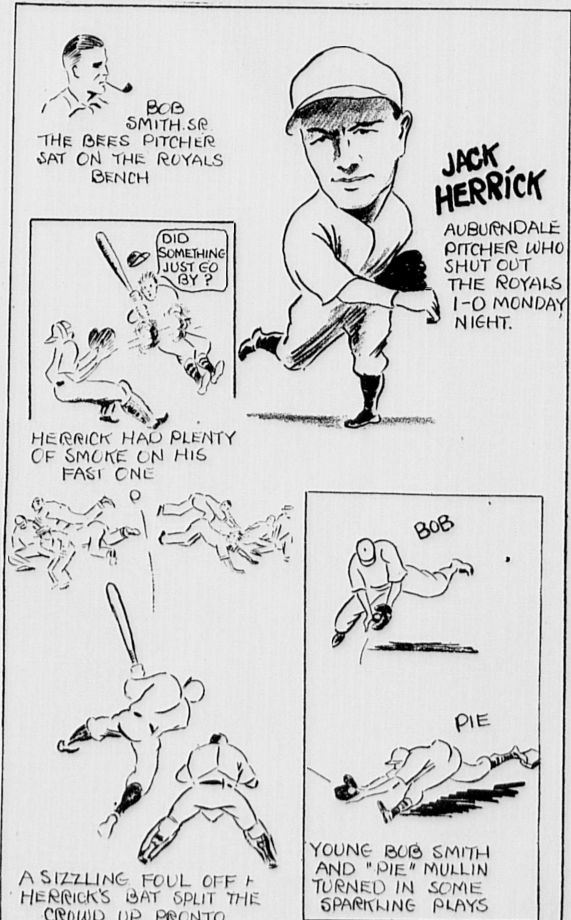

We would suggest to Mr. Goodwin, Governor Hurley and the Legislators of Massachusetts, if they are really anxious to lessen automobile fatalities in this State, that they have legislation enacted which will compel speed limits such as are enforced in Rhode Island. Recently, we drove along the heaviest travelled State highway in Rhode Island, Route 1, from Pawtucket to the Connecticut line. At frequent intervals along the highway are signs telling motorists of the speed limits in the various locations. In our country 45 miles is the limit. At outskirts of towns and villages the limit is 35 miles; through smaller settlements 30 miles; in congested districts 25 and as low as 20 miles per hour. And these signs are obeyed. We observed nothing of the reckless 60 miles and more per hour speeds commonly in evidence on State and local highways in Massachusetts. Rhode Island has definite speed limits—and enforces them. It doesn't depend on occasional pronouncements in newspapers.

In the Boston Globe the other day was an editorial which claimed that the recent tragic shooting of a Newton policeman could not have occurred in Boston because police cars in Boston are equipped with two-way radios. That contention was blather. In the first place, Patrolman Bell remained alone with the murderer Simpson, when his cruising-car partner stopped. It's a long time since Shakespeare wrote that famous statement of Hamlet—"There is something rotten in Denmark." Boston is not a Danish city, but conditions are obviously putrid in the community settled by the Puritans, and also in other sections of Massachusetts. One evidence of this is the "escape" last April from the Charles Street jail of Edward Simpson who shot two Newton policemen four months later. In Simpson's cell at the Boston jail were

The Newton twilight league championship series will resume at Cabot Park, Newtonville, tonight at 6 p. m. with the Auburndale A. C. favored to win their third and final victory over the Newton Royals. Pitcher for the Auburndale club will be Jack Herrick, Boston University sophomore, who has won five games and lost none this summer, and has given three hits a game on the average. Jack pitched a one-hit game against the Y. M. C. A., and in the second game of the present series set the Royals down with only two hits in a 1-0 shutout. Auburndale won the first game of the series Sunday 9-3, and was defeated 3-0 Wednesday evening. The regular schedule of games saw the elimination of the Newton Y. M. C. A. and the Cubs, while the third-place Royals, managed by Hal Morrison, knocked off the second place Patriots in their series for the right to challenge Auburndale for the league pennant. Del Ryan's Auburndale club now has two victories in the series, and needs only tonight's game at Cabot Park to clean up the series.

West Newton Savings Bank

"Safety for Savings"

Interesting History of W. N. Savings Bank

Fifty years ago the West Newton Savings Bank opened its doors to the public. A review of its founding, of its growth during the half century and an account of those who have labored in its development, will be of interest at the present time.

Back in 1872, James H. Nickerson moved from Provincetown to West Newton, then a part of the Town of Newton. From the conduct of a clothing and tailoring business, interests in ships and other ventures, he had accumulated what, in those days, was considered a small fortune, and proposed to retire.

Being still short of middle age, active and with a keen business instinct, he soon found retirement too dull and in 1874 he erected a building called the Nickerson Block at Washington and Cherry sts. Soon thereafter, he again entered the tailoring business in the corner store of his new block. In Mr. Nickerson, characteristics of sympathy and business sagacity were combined to an unusual degree, and he won the respect and confidence of the townspeople.

There was then no bank nearer than Newton Corner, two miles away, and soon the villagers commenced asking Mr. Nickerson to care for their savings. As it became known that money could be deposited with one so trusted, more and more in the neighborhood sought this safety for their funds until it became necessary for Mr. Nickerson to adopt a plan of accounting.

He became a private banker, adopted the title "Exchange Banking Company," and issued passbooks to his depositors with that name stamped upon the cover with a rubber stamp.

Without office or advertising, the banking business increased and check accounts were issued to accommodate the shopkeepers and others. So far as it can be learned, the banking funds were not kept separate from his own. Even as it is today in banking, confidence was based upon reputation. By the late eighties, the banking business had fairly outstripped the tailoring business in importance and Mr. Nickerson felt the time had come to end his responsibilities as a private banker. He consulted with several leading men of the community relative to forming a chartered bank and found favor for his plan.

The necessary steps were taken and the First National Bank of West Newton opened its doors on the first day of January 1887 in quarters adjoining Mr. Nickerson's tailoring establishment in the Nickerson Block and with a door between so that Mr. Nickerson, who had been chosen President of the new bank, might conveniently act in either capacity. Until 1902 he continued as President of the National Bank when he resigned to become President of the West Newton Savings Bank. The First National Bank was subsequently bought by the Newton Trust Company, consolidated with it in 1931, and became its West Newton Branch.

Having succeeded in establishing the National Bank, Mr. Nickerson and his associates realized that the "scope of this institution was not broad enough to properly serve the community, as savings accounts were multiplying and the proper investment of these funds within the town for the benefit of its citizens required legal powers not then possessed by the bank of discount. They agreed that a Mutual Savings Bank was the form that would be most helpful. Without delay they applied for authority to establish such an institution, and three months later, on March 10, 1887, the West Newton Savings Bank was incorporated. The first meeting of the Corporation was held a fortnight later, March 28th, at Mr. Nickerson's home. Mr. Austin R. Mitchell was elected chairman and Edward W. Cate, Fred E. Crockett, J. Upham Smith, Austin R. Mitchell, James H. Nickerson, Edward R. Seccomb, Prescott C. Bridgman, Charles A. Potter, Charles L. Hosmer, George Pettee, Alfred L. Barbour, Caleb F. Eddy, Benjamin F. Houghton, Josiah E. Bacon, Francis A. Dewson, Frank E. Hunter, Samuel Barnard, Adams K. Tolman, Lyman K. Putney, Dwight Chester, Edward L. Pickard, George M. Fiske, Charles T. Pulsifer and George H. Ingraham were elected Corporation. At a second meeting, April 13th, the Corporation organized by adopting by-laws, electing Mr. Mitchell as President, other officers and a Board of Trustees comprised of Austin R. Mitchell, Fred E. Crockett, Benjamin F. Houghton, Alfred L. Barbour, Edward W. Cate, Dwight Chester, Edward L. Pickard, Adams K. Tolman, Prescott C. Bridgman, George Pettee, Samuel Barnard, and Lyman K. Putney.

The newly appointed Board of Trustees met for the first time on April 23rd and Mr. Mitchell qualified as President. Mr. Nickerson as Treasurer and a Board of Investment was elected. The bank opened for business in the back room of the National Bank quarters. It had a short counter surround-

Dodo, Now Extinct, Was of Massive, Clumsy Form

The dodo was a bird, of the island of Mauritius, allied to the pigeons, but unable to fly. It was as large as a swan, of massive and clumsy form, with short, stout legs and feet, and a hooked bill much larger than its head. Its wings were rudimentary and its tail composed of short curly feathers. Some early writers say that its body was covered with black down, with bare skin around the eyes and forehead; others, that the color of its breast was like that of a young pheasant and of its back, dun or deer-color. The dodo built a nest on the ground and laid but one egg about as large as that of a penguin. Its food was probably mangoes and other tropical fruits.

The dodo has become extinct within two centuries, according to a writer in the Indianapolis News.

It was discovered by Vasco da Gama in 1497, and is mentioned by various voyagers of the Sixteenth and Seventeenth centuries. In the Seventeenth century it was much used for food by the crews of vessels touching at Mauritius. The Dutch began to colonize the island in 1644, and the dodos soon were exterminated, largely by the dogs, cats and rats which devoured the eggs and the young in the nests. After the French took possession of Mauritius in 1715, the dodo no longer was mentioned as a living bird. All that remains now of the bird are some rude drawings by early voyagers; several paintings, from one of which in the British museum is made the illustration seen in most books of natural history, and the head and feet, preserved in the Ashmolean museum, Oxford. Large numbers of its bones have been recovered from swamps, so that the skeleton is well known.

Elephants Hold Record; May Live to 200 Years

According to accredited data, the following figures may be regarded as reliable on the life span of animals:

Elephant, 150 to 200 years; falcon, 162; vulture, 118; golden eagle, 104; swan, 102; goose, elder duck, raven, parrot, tortoise (especially the giant tortoise), 200 to 300; carp and pike 150 years; horse, ass, dromedary and bear, 40 to 50; crane, 40 to 50; heron, 60; owl, 68; dove, ostrich and woodpecker, 60 to 70; hippopotamus, 40; rhinoceros, 40 to 50; the gull, 44; the cuckoo, crocodile and toad, 40; sheep, 10 to 15; goat, 12 to 15; stag, 30; roebuck, 15; reindeer, 16; elk, 20; wild pig, 20 to 30; dog and wolf, 10 to 15; fox, 10; lion, 20 to 25; tiger, 20; cat, 9 to 10; beaver, 20 to 25; squirrel, 10 to 12; hare, 7 to 8; guinea pig, 5 to 7; rat, 3; mouse, 3 to 4; domestic fowls, 15 to 20; magpie, 25; blackbird, 18; canary, 24; salamander, 10 to 12; tree-frog, 10; freshwater eel, 10 to 12.

Certain of the humbler forms of life live astonishingly long. These include the fresh-water pearl-mussel, 60 to 70, and fresh-water crabs and leeches, over 20. The angle-worm may live over 10 years. Insects and spiders have short lives as a rule, but some kinds of ants have lived in captivity for 10 to 15 years.

Queen bees, though engaged in constant production of eggs to create communities of descendants, live from 4 to 5 years, whereas the little workers and their activities in about six weeks. — Indianapolis News.

The Poodle Dog

The standard poodle is frequently known by the erroneous name, "French poodle," a non-existent variety. The so-called French poodle is a German breed. The word "poodle" is derived from the German "puddel," applied to the breed because it retrieves from the water. Strictly speaking, it is the "canis familiaris aquaticus." In France, the breed we know as the poodle is called the "caniche," which derives from "chien canne," which translates into "duck dog." To go a bit further in debunking the "French" part of the poodle: it was in France that the hair was first clipped from the dog so that it could swim better, but it was the English who developed fancy clipping.

The Vitamin Alphabet

Housewives who find it hard to learn the vitamin alphabet may be helped by the following simple government explanation: Vitamin A is said to prevent an eye defect; vitamin B, beriberi; vitamin C, scurvy; vitamin D, rickets; vitamin G, pellagra. The nutritionists say that the American dietary commonly lacks iron. Foods rich in iron are liver, meats, eggs, and green leafy vegetables. Recent government analyses revealed that next to liver, the oyster is the best natural source of iron and copper.

Illness Saved Treasures

So distraught was the eminent Bolshevik savant, Lunacharsky, over the reported demolition of Basil cathedral during the first days of the revolution in Russia that he became ill and took to his bed, writes Albert Rhys Williams in "The Soviets." Lenin went to see him and made him the head of a special commission for protecting and preserving the cultural inheritance of the past. As a result Russia's art treasures were saved.

"Father of History"

Herodotus, called the "Father of History," was born at Halicarnassus, a Dorian city of Asia Minor, B. C. 484. In his youth he became disgusted with the tyrannical rule of Lydian, and abandoned his home for the island of Samos, upon which he acquired the Ionic dialect, which he used in writing his history. After remaining there some time, notes a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, he began his famous travels, visiting Greece, Asia Minor, Syria, Babylon and northern Africa. Returning to his old home he assisted in the expulsion of Lydian and the establishment of a new ruler. The latter, however, became nearly as tyrannical as the former, so that Herodotus again looked abroad for a home. Hearing that a colony was about to leave Athens for Italy, he joined it and settled, B. C. 443, at Thurii in that peninsula. At that place he lived the remainder of his life, writing the history which has been a lasting monument to his name. It is not known in what year he died; but it is supposed that he lived to be a very old man.

According to the Academie Française, there are 2,790 languages in the world, writes a Paris correspondent. THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

FINAL ARCHERY SHOOT TO BE HELD TOMORROW

The archery section of the Newton Playground Department which was scheduled to close Saturday, August 28th, is continuing another week. The final shoot, a Junior American Round of 30 arrows each at 50 yards, 40 yards, and 30 yards respectively, will be held Saturday morning, September 4th at the Newton Centre Playground. William De Stefano, a regular fourth or fifth placer, forged ahead this week with a score of 293 to take first place. Peggy Farwell, absent for two weeks, scored 260 for second place. Winifred Smith kept her place near the top by coming in third with a score of 241. Roger Bryant, fourth with a score of 200, is one of the younger boys steadily improving every week.

The results of the two teams are as follows:

Team 1
William De Stefano	293
Winifred Smith	241
Leonard White	240
Edith Shapiro	173
Catherine Davenport	172
Albert Johnston	132
Rita Sullivan	132
Malcolm Clifford	24
Leonard Farwell	13
Team 2
Peggy Farwell	260
Roger Bryant	200
Althea Goodwin	191
Enice MacIsaac	148
Barbara Goldman	119
Rodrick Clifford	92
Joan Glavin	67
Josephine MacIsaac	67
Warren Hollis	16

The last four children on each team, being smaller than the others, shot only 30 arrows each at 40 yards and 30 yards respectively, which accounts for the low scores.

A special shoot was held last Wednesday for Gloria, Buddy and Leonard Maloney, because of their anticipated absence at the regular shoot. They shot a Junior American Round. Their scores were: Gloria, 401; Buddy, 377; and Leonard, 161.

NEWTON ARCHERS TO HOLD LABOR DAY SHOOT

The third quarterly shoot of the Newton Archers will be held on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 6th, at the Newton Centre playground. Registration and practice will begin at 9:30 and the tournament will start promptly at 10. In the afternoon at 1:30 there will be a mixed American round for seniors and a second Jr. American round for boys and girls. At 3:30 will be the novelty shoot for all. In addition to the handicap Cummings Cup for seniors, the Mariner Cup for juniors and a visitors' cup, there will be awards for first three places for the day's total high score, awards for men, ladies and juniors and certificates for the first five places.

found a hack-saw, a Stillson wrench and a 14 inch pry bar. It's a wonder he was not provided with a jack and an electric drill. It is not jail officials alone who should be investigated. Some of the judges in this noble old Commonwealth could also have the limelight focussed on them.

The leniency shown to hardened criminals in this State is largely responsible for the continued increase in robberies, crimes of violence and murder. We are not referring to Newton judges.

There is much indignation, and properly so over the murder of Patrolman Bell. But, don't forget that such killings are encouraged by leniency such as has been shown toward such cold-blooded murderers as the DiStasio. It took two years to convict the first of these two men and they had fearfully killed a man in an insurance fraud. And then, Governor Hurley grants a reprieve to the elder DiStasio after his quite belated sentencing.

The little ponds in front of City Hall are being cleared of the deposits of mud which accumulated in them the past 2 1/2 years. It certainly was time to have this much-needed job done.

Entrance Exams At Day Junior High School

The parent entering a child at the P. A. Day for the first time is urged to note that the administrative staff will be on hand Thursday and Friday mornings, Sept. 9 and 10.

Here under quiet conditions the parent is invited to bring the child and his past school history to discuss the successful placement of the youngster. Parents are urged to do this, if possible, before the congested peak of Monday.

The values of such a contact are too obvious as our endeavor is to adjust the child with the least amount of emotional upset. This takes time. It is hoped that parents will avail themselves of this opportunity.

History Of Savings Bank

ing space about large enough to accommodate one table. Cash and books were kept in a small iron safe under the counter.

Mr. Alfred L. Barbour, one of the trustees, was awarded passbook number one and six others of his family the next succeeding numbers through seven. Another of the earliest depositors was Mrs. Thirza E. Gammons, who received passbook number forty-five on June 22nd. She is still living and enjoying the half-century anniversary with two of her children holding leading positions in West Newton banks. Her son, Roland F. Gammons, is president of the Savings Bank and her daughter, Miss Ethel T. Gammons, is manager of the West Newton Branch of the Newton Trust Company. At the end of the first year there were 252 depositors and the bank's assets totaled $28,162.66.

Progress continued and in 1896 the need for larger quarters for both banking institutions required changes. Mr. Nickerson gave up his tailoring establishment and the corner quarters were refitted for use by the National Bank. The Savings Bank moved to the front room formerly occupied by the other bank. Its assets at this time were $425,000.

By 1914 the assets of the Savings Bank had reached nearly two millions of dollars. At a meeting of the Trustees on July 7 of that year the treasurer recommended consideration of more adequate quarters. Despite the occurrence of events leading to the World War the trustees had the courage to go forward. Land in the center of the business district where the bank is now located, at the southeast corner of Washington and Highland sts., was purchased for $5000, or about sixty-four cents a square foot for about 7800 square feet. Construction began on April 1, 1915, and the new banking rooms were opened to the public on October 25th of that year. The main banking room was thirty-five feet square with counters on either side and public space in the center. A modern vault, lined with steel, electrical, fire proofed and with a ten-ton steel door was built into the rear portion of the building. A room for meetings of the trustees was provided on the second floor above the vault. The building was the first fireproof construction erected in Newton. The bank at that time had but three active employees, treasurer, assistant treasurer, and one clerk.

In April 1917, with the entrance of the country into the World War, additional clerks were necessary as the bank became the headquarters of the West Newton Liberty Loan Committee. Subscriptions were received and bonds sold in all the various war efforts. The bank financed purchases for those unable to pay in full by accepting installments of as little as one dollar a week. The bank extended a further service by holding customers' war loan bonds in safe keeping without charge. In all over a million dollars in bonds were financed.

For the decade from 1919 on the tide of business rose, building construction reached boom proportions and demand for money increased. Seemingly prosperity reached a high peak until the bubble burst in 1929. A few out of the multitude had steadily refused to be drawn into the maelstrom of speculation, had gone steadily on their way, paying off their mortgages and building up their savings accounts. The wisdom of these few has been proven and when the next speculation epidemic occurs others may profit by their example.

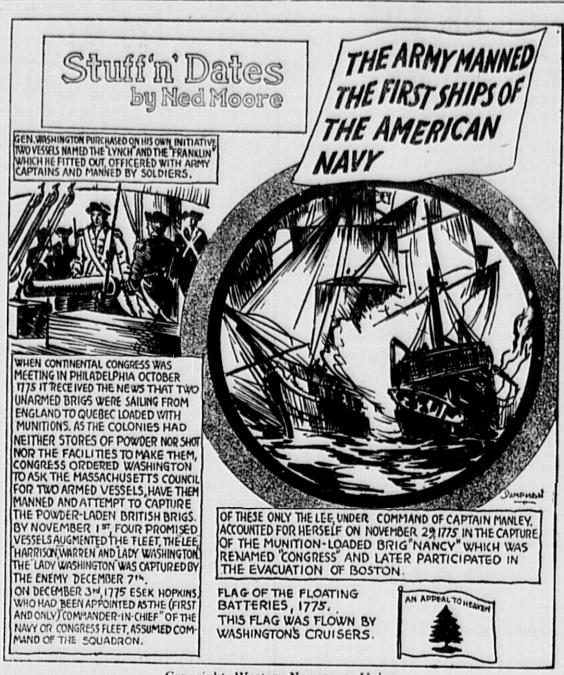

The swift descent of values and other conditions brought a loss of confidence in banks and all banks in the state on March 4th, 1933, closed by proclamation of the Governor. All Massachusetts Savings Banks reopened within a few days. During the crisis the West Newton Savings Bank took pride in its depositors. At no time was lack of confidence displayed and in fact many new friends and depositors were gained.

Growth of the bank continued until in 1934 the assets had approached six million. Additional help was needed and more room required. Fortunately, as opportunities permitted, additional land had been acquired at the rear of the bank in 1929 and 1933, making a total area of 17,680 square feet. In January 1935, the trustees voted to build an addition to the building and to remodel the interior. Construction began on April 1, and in October, just twenty years after the opening of the original building, the enlarged and remodelled building was completed.

During the fifty years of its existence the bank has had four presidents: Austin R. Mitchell, 1887-1902; James H. Nickerson, 1902-1906; George P. Bullard, 1906-1928, and Roland F. Gammons, 1928—. Mr. Mitchell, the first president, was compelled to resign because of ill health in 1902. Mr. Nickerson, whose service as treasurer for fifteen years was most remarkable, resigned in April 1906, owing to "advanced age and many cares." His death followed on June 6 in his seventy-sixth year. Mr. Bullard became a trustee in 1902 and four years later succeeded to the presidency. He passed away while in office twenty-two years later.

Roland F. Gammons was elected president on May 15, 1928, and fills that position at the present time. He has had a noteworthy connection with the bank covering thirty-five years. He entered its employ as the only clerk in 1898 at a salary of $9 a week. His early duties combined those of a janitor, teller, and bookkeeper. The bank had neither typewriter nor telephone. He was advanced to the office of treasurer in 1902, then being the youngest Savings Bank treasurer in the State. He was elected a trustee in April 1906 and made second vice-president in April 1927.

Only three have occupied the office of treasurer. Mr. Clifford I. Champin, present treasurer, following Mr.

Gammons and Mr. Nickerson. Mr. Champin came to the bank in September 1921, to assist during the illness of the then assistant treasurer, J. Ellis Gammons. Following the latter's death in 1923, Mr. Champin became assistant treasurer and in 1928 was advanced to the office he now holds.

Two others have served as assistant treasurers. J. Ellis Gammons from 1910 until his death in June 1922, and Jessie L. Hardy (nee Jameson) who became assistant treasurer in May 1928, and served until her resignation in 1932.

Special mention should be made of the service to the bank of the late Frank E. Hunter, who died Feb. 25, 1937. He was the last survivor of the group of Corporators who organized the institution in 1887. He was elected a trustee on April 10, 1889; a vice-president, April 11, 1894, and a member of the Investment Board, January 12, 1897. In all these offices and throughout the years the bank was one of his chief interests. Retired from business, he could and did contribute much time to the bank's affairs. He was loved and respected by all. Knowledge of his association with the bank did much to inspire the public confidence that is so necessary to such an institution.

Break Ground For New Gym At Lasell

Alumnae and Friends To Raise Fund For Building

Lasell Junior College is breaking ground for a new Auditorium-Gymnasium. The building will be located on the campus at Maple street, a short distance from Woodland road.

Dr. Guy M. Winslow, President of Lasell Junior College, stated in an interview recently that he thought there was a growing feeling of local community pride in this school which, since its founding by Edward Lasell in 1851, has ever been mindful of its words "Go Forward." The new building of brick with limestone trimmings will add greatly to the charm and appeal which yearly are bringing more and more girls to its classrooms.

Located at Auburndale, Massachusetts, Lasell is ideally situated to care for the growing tendency of high school students to go to a junior college before attending a senior college. The transition from a secondary school to college is made very pleasant for Lasell girls. They not only have their own beautiful campus and school life to view but that of the senior colleges surrounding this territory.

The new building as designed by the well-known firm of Architects, Andrews, Jones, Bischoff and Whitmore, will make it possible to have an auditorium accommodating 800 for assemblies and entertainments—a need which Lasell has long felt. The modern gymnasium will be equipped with 8 showers and 400 lockers, located directly below.

There is at Lasell an endowment fund of $100,000, but future plans for improvement and the fact that the school is now a public trust are obvious reasons why alumnae and friends of the school will this fall undertake a campaign for the necessary funds to erect this new building. The campaign will start October 15th and will be conducted by Lasell graduates, former students and friends from coast to coast.

Pay Fines For Speeding

Albert Edmonds of Wellesley paid a fine of $5 in the Newton court on Saturday for speeding. The fine was paid by proxy, Edmonds not appearing, and being represented by his father. In court the same day Edgar Bellevue of Lowell st., Waltham, was fined $5 for not stopping when ordered to do so by a policeman. Patrolman Connelly testified that Bellevue approached the intersection of Washington st. and Centre ave. at a speed of 40 miles and did not stop when he signalled him to do so. A speeding charge was placed on file by Judge Pappas of Boston, who was substituting on the bench for the Newton judges.

Police Confer With Mayor on Day in 6

Last Thursday a committee of Newton policemen awaited on Mayor Childs in a further effort to obtain a day off every 6 days, instead of a day off every 8 days, as they now receive. The committee was composed of Patrolmen James Corcoran, Frank Hunt, Joseph Lyons and Charles Magua. They stated that several places in Greater Boston now give a day off in six. They contend that the extra time off can be given without adding additional men to the police department.

On Saturday another conference was held at the Mayor's office, at which the committee and Chief Hughes were present.

Chief Hughes is willing that the police shall have the day off in 6 provided that he can get a sufficient number of additional men so that the efficiency of the department will not be impaired. The Mayor has to be shown on the contention of the men that their time off can be increased 25 per cent without additional men being required. He stated that nothing will be done of this matter for at least a month. The committee urged that the new schedule be placed into effect on October 1. The committee also asked that the practice of compelling men who work on the night shifts to do school traffic duty on one day each week be abandoned. The police asserted that Newton is the only city in the State where this extra duty is imposed on policemen, and by compelling them to perform it their day off in 8 has been actually nullified.

Woman Breaks Leg Nearly Suffocated

Mrs. Annabelle Kay of 93 Beaumont ave., Newtonville, nearly lost her life on Tuesday night about 7 o'clock as the result of an unusual accident. She went into the garage at her home to start the automobile, and as she alighted from the car after starting the motor, in order to return to the house to obtain some articles, her left shoe caught in the running board of the car, breaking her left leg. Lying helpless on the floor of the garage, the fumes from the exhaust of the car rendered her unconscious. When she did not return to the house, her husband went out to the garage and discovered her. He carried her out into the yard and sent a call for aid to police headquarters. The police ambulance responded and took Mrs. Kay to the Newton Hospital where she is recovering.

Man Falls Off Ladder at New. Ctr.

Frank B. Coleman, 74, of 5 Clarendon st., Newtonville, fell off a ladder while painting the house at 16 Chase st., Newton Centre, on Tuesday. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. He received a dislocated shoulder and cuts on his face and head.

Free Examination For Children of Pre-School Age

Children of pre-school age, between 2 and 5 years old, will be given free physical examinations by health experts in this city during the next several weeks. Such an activity has been lacking in Newton in past years, and has been decided upon as a result of the city's participation in the national health conservation contest. Dr. Harlow Chope, head of the Newton Health Department, announces that the first conference at which the children will be examined will be held at West Newton during the week of September 20. Other conferences will be subsequently held at Nonantum, Upper Falls and Newton Centre. The children will be examined by pediatricians, nutritionists and dental hygienists. Parents who desire their children to be examined may obtain particulars by communicating with the Health Department at City Hall. The conferences are sponsored by the Newton Board of Health, Newton Medical Club, and the District Nursing Association.

Gets 1 Year For Non-Support

Leo St. John, of 418 Watertown street, Nonantum was arraigned in the Newton court on Tuesday on charges of bigamy and non-support. St. John, 32 years of age and a worker in a mill, has a legal wife and three children at the Newton address. Last Saturday night he appeared at his home with another woman, Helen Balcom of Cambridge, who he had married under an assumed name in New Hampshire recently. On Monday St. John's legal wife made a complaint to Newton police against her husband on the charge of non-support. After he was arrested and was about to be arraigned in the Newton court on Tuesday, St. John naively informed the police he could not support his wife and children because he had a second wife. The police at once obtained a complaint against him on the charge of bigamy. He pleaded guilty to both charges. Judge Weston sentenced St. John to serve one year in Middlesex County prison on the non-support charge, and imposed a like sentence on the bigamy charge, but ordered that both sentences be served concurrently. This means that St. John will have to serve but one year for both offenses. St. John at first appealed, but later withdrew his appeal.

Lewis Unable To Address Forum

CIO Leader Pleads Business—Kaltenborn To Open Third Season

The resignation of Mrs. Elinor C. Peebles of Newton Centre for reasons of poor health as director of publicity for the Newton Community Forum has given the Forum's executive committee cause for concern as it meets this week-end to choose her successor and complete details of organization for the ensuing season. Mrs. Peebles has worked tirelessly for the Forum as a member of its Executive Committee since its inception two years ago.

Equally disappointing to the Forum's committee in charge of selecting speakers is the now definite refusal of John L. Lewis, militant CIO leader and regarded by many as a 1940 presidential candidate, to appear at the Forum's second meeting to defend the CIO drive on industrial management. Mr. Lewis' college-trained daughter-secretary reports that her father's activities make it extremely unwise for him to commit himself to a speaking engagement which he might be unable to meet. Attempts are being made to secure either Homer W. Martin, CIO leader of the automobile workers, or Thomas C. Burns, CIO regional head for New England to take the stand in Mr. Lewis' stead.

Offsetting these developments is the announcement of the sub-committee on Finance that more than 25 per cent of the Forum's season memberships have been subscribed in advance of the drive to complete underwriting of the $1700 budget.

Equally pleasing is the announcement that Hans V. Kaltenborn, 1937 Pulitzer radio announcing prize winner and final speaker at the Forum last spring, will return to open the series on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 31. His appearance is expected to pack the High School auditorium and his agreement to meet and chat with the Junior Committee afterwards is regarded with anticipation by the junior sponsors of the Forum.

Patrolman Murphy Near Death At Newton Hospital

Patrolman Lawrence Murphy of the Newton police, who was shot on the night of Aug. 21st by Edward Simpson, has been gradually sinking at the Newton Hospital the past week. He has been in a coma much of the time for several days and members of his family have been constantly at the hospital. Murphy has been waging an heroic battle to live. Fellow members of the Newton police department have offered in large numbers to contribute blood to aid Murphy. Those from whom transfusions were taken included Patrolmen Frank Barry, John J. Murphy, John Powers, Leo Gagnon, William Walsh and Edward Maguire. In the transfusion given by Maguire on Wednesday a method was used which necessitated a long incision being made in Maguire's arm, seven stitches being required to close it.

On Tuesday night a "dying statement" was taken from Murphy by Captain Goode of the Newton police department, assisted by Mrs. Elsie FitzGerald, stenographer. Murphy stated that Simpson fired the first shot, firing at Murphy through the left rear window of the automobile in which the killer was sitting, and then shooting Patrolman Bell. Murphy also stated that Miss Frances Prada had warned him that Simpson was driving off in the car, covering Bell with a gun. Murphy had apparently been recovering from his wounds, when, on last Friday a streptococcus infection developed.

Bishop Spellman Host to Prelates

Bishop Francis J. Spellman, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre, has been host this week to three Catholic prelates—Most Rev. Bishop James H. Ryan of Omaha, Nebraska; Rt. Rev. Alfred Ottaviani and Rt. Rev. Primo Principi, two monsignori from the Vatican. The former is attached to the Holy Office, and the latter to the staff of the Papal Secretary of State. On Monday the Bishop and his visitors were guests at luncheon of Cardinal O'Connell at his summer home in Marblehead.

Order Three Dogs Restrained

Over the week-end three dogs were ordered restrained by Newton police. A dog owned by Mrs. Josephine Anese of 56 Hawthorn st., Newton, bit Ernest Martelli of Johnson, Rhode Island, while the latter was visiting here. A dog owned by Mrs. Marion Schiavone of 1083 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, was ordered restrained after it had become too rough with 3 year old Mary Davison. Dr. Anthony Macaluso of 28 Chesterfield rd., West Newton, was ordered to restrain his dog. The animal's barking had annoyed neighbors.

NEW INSURANCE RATES

The new compulsory insurance rates for 1938 as announced last week will mean a slight decrease in passenger vehicles of both the light and heavy type to Newton motor car owners. Commissioner DeCelles continues to maintain that the insurance companies are over-reserved in the amount set aside for unsettled claims. This is the question which is still before the high courts of the Commonwealth in regard to the rates in existence for this present year. As matters stood the insurance commissioner could do nothing else than continue to schedule the insurance rates upon the same basis as he used a year ago in formulating them. Although the new rates will generally be acceptable to Newton motorists there will be considerable furore made if the courts uphold the insurance companies claim that the reserve proposed by the commissioner is inadequate and adjustments have to be made both on this year's rates and those proposed for next year. On the other hand should the existing rates be permitted to stand and it later is found that the reserves were inadequate to settle unpaid claims what a pretty mess the automobile insurance question will be.

BACK TO SCHOOL

This week and next the back to school movement is on in earnest. Next Monday morning some twelve thousand Newton children will resume their efforts toward greater learning, as many others in every community will do where schools did not open this week. From many of the larger cities comes indications of a decreased enrollment. Here in Newton, however, it is expected that there will be another step in the consistently steady increased enrollment that we have had for some years. The high standard of our school system and the scholastic records of graduates of the high school continue to attract new families to the Garden City.

Rotary Club

Because of the holiday on Monday of this week, the Newton Rotary Club met with the Waterbury Club on Tuesday noon. President Fred Mooney gave the Newton Club a cordial welcome.

The speaker of the day was Dr. Frank W. Rounds of Boston, who spoke on Dentistry and Social Security. Dr. Rounds spoke briefly concerning the history of the profession of dentistry, pointed out that there are now some 65,000 dentists who serve the entire national population, and spoke of the educational requirements necessary for entering this profession. He then surveyed the legislation before state and national governments concerning provision of dental service to all people through programs of social security insurance. Dr. Rounds emphasized that it would be very unwise and undesirable for laws to be passed at the present time which would make all members of the dental profession public servants. He felt that such social security legislation would restrict the personal liberty of members of the profession and that such a movement would become the political football of successive legislatures. He emphasized that he was heartily in favor of improvement of dental conditions but thought that compulsory social security insurance was not the way to solve the problem.

On September 13, at the next regular meeting of the Newton Club at Brae Burn, Dr. D. Brewer Eddy, who has just returned from Europe, will speak on his impressions of economic conditions in some of the Western European countries.

ALL NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL OPENS FOR TWENTY-SEVENTH YEAR

The twenty-seventh season of the All Newton Music School will hold registration at the Peirce School, West Newton, on Tuesday, Sept. 21 and at the Clafin School, Newtonville, on Thursday, Sept. 23. Both branches will be open from 2 until 5 p. m.

This school is under the personal supervision of its director, Miss Elizabeth Fyfe, who is a well known musician and composer. The various courses offer private individual lessons in piano, violin, cello, clarinet and voice. Special opportunity is afforded in the many group-work activities, the importance of which is stressed in the pre-instrumental and theory classes, trios, ensembles, and orchestras, as well as frequent pupils' recitals and concerts. The aim of the school and of all of its activities is to afford a sound musical education at a moderate cost to the young people of Newton and during its 26 years it has come to be known as a center of art and culture in our city.

At both branches the Fall Term will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 28th. Miss Fyfe, the director, will return from an extended vacation and will be available for consultation on registration days and will start her teaching schedules on Oct. 1st.

Charles Waterhouse of Newtonville who fell from the spire of the Orthodox church there, was not injured so badly as first reported. There were no bones broken, but, falling as he did, he received several slight bruises and a pretty good jarring of his system.

A horse from the stable of Mr. Hayward of Natick, while passing through Auburndale on Tuesday afternoon, was taken sick near the postoffice and died within an hour.

At the meeting of the Newton Common Council on Monday evening the order relating to badges for members of the Board of Aldermen and the Common Council was taken from the table. Councilman Wood of Ward 1 moved that the word "leather" be substituted in place of the words "gold" and "silver". Councilman Jackson wanted the words reversed so that the Councilmen should have the gold badges and the Aldermen the silver ones. On motion of Councilman Carpenter the order was again tabled.

The sidewalk on Park street, between Vernon and Washington streets, is in a very dangerous condition and needs immediate attention from the highway committee.

Edward P. Burnham of Fayette street was referee at the bicycle races in Lynn on Monday. The boys race was close and exciting and Arthur Porter of Church street came in second. At Cottage City a few days previous Porter won two races from men, the one mile and five miles.

The electric light at Farlow park, which is generously contributed by the Newton and Watertown Electric Light Company, illuminates every part of the park, and renders it a much quieter place on summer evenings. Residents in the vicinity say the light is better than a park policeman.

There seems at last to be some signs of life about the Newton street railway project, and a public hearing is announced at which those who favor the project, and those who oppose it may appear and be heard. As the indications now point to an electric motor as the propelling power, it is not probable that the objectors will be many. Most of those who objected last winter did so because of their fear it would be a horse railroad. It would certainly be a great convenience to have a street railroad between the different villages, especially between the two sides of the city along Walnut street. The Street Railroad would also be a great thing for high school scholars, as it would carry them right to the building in stormy weather, and visits to Newton Cemetery would become a comparatively easy matter.

Citizens of Watertown are agitating a great scheme—that of dredging the Charles River between the Watertown Arsenal and the Galen street bridge. The dredging is necessary for sanitary reasons. All who have been near the river when the tide is out, will agree with this claim.

Beauty Pageant A Daily Feature of Brockton Fair

Miss America of 1938 will be chosen at a glamorous beauty pageant to be held as a daily attraction of the 63rd annual Brockton Fair, Sept. 12 to 18.

The beauty pageant, augmented by a baby parade, a fashion revue and theatrical acts, will be staged twice every afternoon, 2 to 4, and 5 to 7, and also in the evening, 9 to 11, at the new open-air theatre. Motion pictures will be taken at the performances and the management plans to show them Friday and Saturday at the theatre.

More than 600 beautiful and talented girls and tiny tots are now rehearsing regularly in preliminary drills in a Brockton hall. At a Brockton theatre on September 8 and 9, these contestants will vie for the honor of being "Miss Brockton." "Little Miss Brockton" and "Queen of the Air" during Fair week.

The "Queen of the Air" will go to Washington, D. C., by plane and personally extend to President Roosevelt an invitation to attend Brockton Fair. The competition for the title of "Miss America of 1938" is open to all girls 16 years of age and over. The title-winner will be awarded a free trip to Miami. Prizes will be given for bathing beauties, best-dressed girls, most attractive costumes and most talented girls.

In the baby parade prizes will be bestowed for baby bathing beauties, baby carriages and floats, most attractive baby costumes and most talented babies. A royal court will be chosen and children also will be selected to participate in a Tom Thumb wedding.

Castling director's headquarters are located at 6 Centre street, Brockton.

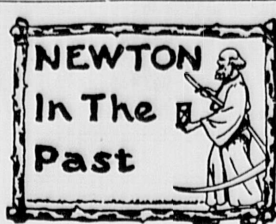

CAPITOL THEATRE, ALLSTON

Picturing the exciting rivalry of Gotham's money tycoons for the heart of a bewitching woman, "The Toast of New York" is brought to the Capitol Theatre for the entire week starting Friday, September 10th.

In this new motion picture appears a notable co-starring group—Edward Arnold, Cary Grant, Frances Farmer and Jack Oakie. "The Toast of New York" is laid in that colorful period immediately after the Civil War, when the financial moguls of Wall st. began their juggling of railroad and industrial empires. In this period Jim Fisk rapidly rose from obscurity and became one of the times most sensational money barons, a lavish spender and playboy and a flamboyant lover. Forceful and imaginative, "Fisk" is played by Edward Arnold. Donald Meek has the role of Drew and the engaging Cary Grant is cast as Fisk's partner, Jack Oakie, as another copy of the Wall Street tycoon provides the comedy appeal.

Equally as flamboyant as his business career was his devotion to Josie Mansfield, whose ambition to become a theatrical star kept Fisk continually seeking more resources. Fisk flaunted his unconventional affair in the face of New York, climaxing his adulation by buying a theatre for her. Frances Farmer portrays the bewitching Josie.

The Capitol Theatre will also present Spencer Tracy, Gladys George, Franchot Tone in "They Gave Him a Gun."

Newton Republican, Sept. 11, 1875

The number of dwelling houses in Newton this year is 2876; in 1865 it was 1438; the number having just doubled in 10 years.

Messrs R. L. Day advertise Newton water bonds for sale in the REPUBLICAN this week. A fine opportunity for making an investment.

The Water Commissioners have purchased 6 acres of land from Mr. F. W. Sargent on Ward street for the reservoir for the water works. The land comprises 260,000 square feet, at a cost of $20,000. It is proposed to build a reservoir which will hold 10,000,000 gallons of water. Its height above tide water will be 270 feet. On the westerly and northerly sides it is proposed to build an avenue 50 feet wide, and on the easterly side one 39 feet in width. It is probable that Ward street will be eventually widened and improved.

The Clafin Guard, Company C, 5th Regt. M. V. M. will celebrate its fifth anniversary on October 7, and are perfecting arrangements for a parade, competitive drill and grand concert. The order will probably be as follows—Company F, 5th Regt. of Waltham, and the Standish Guards, Company H, 3rd Regt. have been invited. Company F. will be received by the Clafin Guards at Watertown and Company H. at Newton Centre. The three companies will march about the streets of Ward 6 and thence to Ward 1 where the main parade will be. They will march to Newtonville and partake of a collation in a grand marquee tent. Returning to Ward 1 a dress parade will be held in Nonantum Square and supper will be served in Nonantum Hall. In the evening there will be a competitive drill between the companies, the exercises to be enlivened by a concert by the bands.

Nonantum Steamer 1 was out Thursday evening filling the reservoirs at Kenrick Park and the corner of Centre and Franklin streets.

Three families from Boston have become permanent residents of Newtonville this week. With the most populous Ward in the city and steadily increasing, we may look for bright times in the future.

Friday of last week, Mr. J. W. Wentworth of Brighton was bending over a high staging at the new Catholic church at Washington and Adams streets, drawing up a pail of water. He lost his balance and fell nearly 100 feet to the ground, sustaining severe injuries which may prove fatal. One foot has been amputated. Mr. Wentworth was the contractor for the brick work on the church.

Charles Waterhouse of Newtonville who fell from the spire of the Orthodox church there, was not injured so badly as first reported. There were no bones broken, but, falling as he did, he received several slight bruises and a pretty good jarring of his system.

A horse from the stable of Mr. Hayward of Natick, while passing through Auburndale on Tuesday afternoon, was taken sick near the postoffice and died within an hour.

At the meeting of the Newton Common Council on Monday evening the order relating to badges for members of the Board of Aldermen and the Common Council was taken from the table. Councilman Wood of Ward 1 moved that the word "leather" be substituted in place of the words "gold" and "silver". Councilman Jackson wanted the words reversed so that the Councilmen should have the gold badges and the Aldermen the silver ones. On motion of Councilman Carpenter the order was again tabled.

Powers' Paragraphs

We read in the papers the other day of a joint meeting in New York of a Fascist organization and a Nazi organization; both composed of men who reside in this country, and some of whom are citizens of the United States. They wore uniforms similar to those worn by Fascists and Nazis in Italy and Germany. The doctrine of Fascism and Nazism is opposed to the American form of government. Hitler or Mussolini would not permit citizens of their respective countries to organize and hold demonstrations in furtherance of democracies. If these hyphenated Americans are so enthused with Fascism and Nazism, why don't they return to their homelands? This country is combating Communism. Why not Fascism?

The proposed plan of the State Department of Public Works to build an overpass at the intersection of Cottage Farm bridge and Commonwealth ave. will meet with the approval of thousands of Newton residents who usually experience a traffic delay at this place. Two other traffic improvements would be appreciated by many Newton residents. Route 117 between Waltham and Concord should be widened and straightened. Green Lodge rd. between Route 128 and Route 138 should be made a State highway and improved. It is on the direct route between Newton and places on the South Shore and Cape Cod.

A Boston newspaper the other day had a big headline which told of its first page telling of the killing of a baby by a driverless truck. This same paper, in common with other Boston newspapers gives comparatively little space when any man, woman or child is killed by an automobile driven by a person. Such killings have become so common that they are not supposed to have much news value. But, when a motor vehicle without a driver kills anyone—that's news.

If the present cost of meats continues, more and more persons will be forced to become vegetarians—or fish eaters. When one stops to consider it,

"God's Island" Is Name for Gigha in the Gaelic

"God's Island," they call Gigha in Gaelic, and perhaps one reason is that the people there still cling to their old-time traditions, writes Frederic Babcock in the Chicago Tribune. They allow no signs of modernity. It is one of the holiday islands visited from the port of Glasgow.

The isle has only about seven square miles, but within that area it displays a surprising variety of scenery. It has real mountains—in miniature—and many glens, caves, and hiding places awaiting the explorer.

In the year 1263, the fame of Gigha's cattle drew the attention of King Haakon of Norway. He paid a visit there and carried off the entire stock without even a promise to pay. The natives still talk about this unwelcome visitor.

The village consists of rows of whitewashed cottages situated one above the other. These avenues are termed High and Low street, with all the usual class distinction between the dwellers on the two. Living in the upper row are the heroes of the sea, the hunters, and those who have distinguished themselves in public service and religious activities. The undistinguished live in the other. On the road leading from the center of the village is one of the oldest churches of the British Isles. It is known in church history as the one "on the road to Ard-lamey."

Glass Bead Factory Was First Industry in U. S.

Eight Dutch and Polish glass blowers were imported for America's earliest experiment in the production of glass, an experiment which also bears the distinction of being the first manufacturing industry in the United States, states a writer in the Detroit Free Press.

They set up a furnace at Jamestown in 1609 under the protecting wing of the Virginia company, turning out glass beads for use in trading with the Indians. Neither their names nor any authenticated specimen of their product has come down to us, but it is believed that they turned out a considerable quantity of glass. Operation of the furnace ceased with the failure of the Jamestown colony.

The next effort, a decade later, was also at Jamestown. This time six Venetian glass blowers were procured.

History permits us to know the names of three of them—Bernardo, Bonventura and Vincenzo—but little more. They, too, made glass beads. But their displeasure with regulations laid down by the colony's supervising authorities brought on the first recorded labor trouble in the United States—a virtual strike—during which one glass blower smashed both glass furnaces, thus ending the second experiment.

Shortly after, Dutch glass makers arrived at New Amsterdam, and 50 years later Germans started the industry in Philadelphia.

The Danish Westminster Abbey

The cathedral at Roskilde, Denmark, sometimes called the Danish Westminster abbey, contains the tomb of one of the first women in northern Europe to come out of the kitchen and surpass men at their own occupations, says a writer in the Detroit News. Margaret, who came to the Danish throne in 1387 and a year later was made queen of Sweden and Norway, was one of the country's most noted rulers. When her brother-in-law, a neighboring king, wished to deride her, he sent her a whetstone and advised her to sharpen her needles, leaving swords and weapons to men. Margaret promptly answered the insult by defeating the king and his army in battle and taking him prisoner. Today the whetstone that started the feud rests beside her in her tomb.

Weighty Air

The ancients considered air an imponderable substance, but in the past 100 years our knowledge of it has increased considerably. One authority, says London Tit-Bits Magazine, says that the air in the average room weighs about 169 pounds. A cubic foot weighs as much as a letter which can be sent through the post for 1½ pence, and in the course of a day the weight of air breathed by the average person is greater than the weight of food consumed by him. Air is composed of more than a dozen gases, which include nitrogen, oxygen, carbon dioxide, water vapor, hydrogen, helium, neon, argon, krypton, xenon, radon, and other lesser-known elements.

Legendary King of Britain

King Arthur was a legendary king of Britain of the Sixth century, who became the central figure of a great cycle of romance. He was said to have lived in state with his wife, Guinevere, at Caerleon on the Usk. He is supposed to have received mortal wounds from the invading Saxons on the battlefield of Camlan, but it was a tradition that he was taken to be healed in fairyland, and would reappear to reinstate his countrymen over Britain. Probably in the mythical Arthur a semi-historical personage was conjoined with an ancient British god, thus forming a semi-divine hero who may at one time have replaced the older Gwydion.

Rowing as U. S. Sport in Nineteenth Century

Rowing began in the United States early in the Nineteenth century, but did not become popular enough for mention in print until 1811, when a race between a boat owned by the Mercantile Advertiser and another whose owner was merely a "Mr. Snyder," was mentioned in an advertisement in a New York paper. This sport became very popular during the 1820s. Each boat had its host of followers who bet on the outcome of various races. Some such contests drew crowds of 50,000 persons, according to a writer in the Detroit News.

One of the first clubs to be organized was the Castle Garden Boat club established in New York in 1834. The Atlanta Boat club was formed in New York in 1848 and for some time remained a dominant power in rowing. Other early clubs included: the Union Boat club of Boston, organized in 1851 and in 1858 the "Schuylkill Navy" was created in Philadelphia by a merger of the Keystone, University, Excelsior, Bachelor and other boat clans in that district.

In 1843 Yale established rowing, being the first American university to do so. Harvard followed six years later. Intercollegiate rowing did not start until 1852, when the crews of Harvard and Yale raced on the Connecticut river at Springfield, Mass. Harvard was the victor. From 1864 to 1870 seven such intercollegiate regattas were held, with Harvard winning five and Yale two. In 1871 the famous Rowing Association of American Colleges was formed and by 1929 there were 160 rowing universities and clubs functioning in the United States.

Indian Elephant Can Do Work of Forty Coolies

A description of the Indian elephant at work says: "A log that forty coolies can scarcely move, the elephant will quietly lift upon his tusks and, holding it there with his trunk, will carry it to whatever part of the yard he may be directed by his driver. He will also, using trunk, feet and tusks, pile the huge timbers with the utmost precision. It is surprising to see the sagacious animal select and pick out particular timbers from the center of a large heap at the driver's command. The elephants are directed by spoken orders, pressure of the driver's feet, and the goad. Sometimes an animal will break his tusks from being forced by an ignorant or brutal driver to carry an excessive load, but generally he knows his own strength and refuses to lift more than his tusks will bear. Should these break off close to the head the elephant would die; if only cracked they are bound with iron and rendered as serviceable as before."

Knowledge of the elephant is increasing yearly, says a writer in the Chicago Tribune. Certainly the world knows him far better than it did a few hundred years ago when Shakespeare, accepting the common belief that an elephant cannot lie down, wrote of him in "Troilus and Cressida" (act II, scene 3): "The elephant hath joints, but none for courtesy; his legs are for necessity, not for flexure."

Tripe and Cibols

If you are ever invited to have tripe and cibols, do not be alarmed for cibols is an obsolete word for onions. And if you are asked to pass the sinopsis, reach for the mustard. These sound like foreign words, but they are to be found in any good English dictionary. Most of us have had attacks of yexes, though we call it hiccups. It is a distinct warning that we should not partake of too much xenodochy—another word for hospitality. There are scores of such words in our language: zythepsary is one, though you would hardly recognize it as brewery! Fortunately it is not necessary for us to know any of these unfamiliar words—which is distinctly proculeumatic (encouraging). Tit-Bits Magazine.

Cymbalism

Most people regard the cymbals as an unimportant instrument in an orchestra, but some of the most striking effects are obtained by them. Unless the note produced by banging them has just the right timbre they are useless, and manufacturers regard the production of perfect cymbals as a hit-or-miss affair. But there is one cymbal maker, according to London Tit-Bits Magazine, who guarantees the right tone every time. For centuries his family have made cymbals, and he possesses a secret tempering process which makes them sought after by every famous orchestra in Europe and America. Although he employs dozens of assistants, the tempering of every pair is done by him.

Bishop Spurred Sales

When William Tindale printed the Bible in English abroad because contrary to the laws of England, more than 400 years ago, an English bishop sent his agent to buy up all the copies he could get hold of to make a public bonfire with in London. The bonfire was a huge success, making the people so curious about the book that the second edition was snapped up at any price. And, by the way, the bishop's money for so many copies paid for the printing of the second edition.

Love Letters Composed by Man

The five famous love letters, which were said to have been written by Marianna Alcoforado in 1688 to Noel Bouton, later Marquis de Chamilly and Marshal of France, and which have been translated in many languages and published in more than 100 editions, says Collier's Weekly, were composed by a man, in the opinion of numerous eminent literary critics.

SPORT NOTES

Joe Gallant, Newton high track star, and Paul Cronin of Arlington staged a great battle for second place in the Walter Scott mile run at the annual Scottish picnic and Highlands games at Caledonia Grove on the holiday. Cronin nosed out the Newton youth in the scratch event which was won by Paul Kanaly, Belmont, veteran runner. In the half mile Arthur Lindhwaite of the Newton Y at scratch missed out by a stride with the three place winners all having handicaps of more than thirty yards each. Jimmy Walsh of the Newton Y took second in the 100-yd N.E.A.A.U. junior championship dash which was won by Swanson of Brockton.

Gale Wisbach of Newtonville, veteran guard on the Brown varsity football team, was among thirty-four candidates reporting on Tuesday to Coach Tuss McLaughry. He is one of eleven lettermen on the 1937 squad.

Coach Jimmy Dunn, new Northeastern mentor, has two Newton youths from last year's Husky freshman eleven, who are making bids for the varsity eleven this fall. They are Howie Milner, former Newton high star tackle and back who played a backfield position last year and Gerry DeNapoli, former Newton high guard.

Marriage by Elopement

Is Common in Bali Land

In Bali, prearranged marriage is in general the old-fashioned respectable way for the feudal aristocracy to marry; but marriage by elopement is much more common, writes Miguel Covarrubias, in Asia Magazine.

The average boy in love with a girl makes his marriage arrangements directly with her and, aside from his father, perhaps, and a few friends from whom he needs help, he keeps his intentions secret until the day, previously agreed upon between the boy and girl, when he will steal her.

Shy couples simply run away together to the house of a friend, as a rule in another village, where they spend their honeymoon in hiding. But the Balinese love spectacular kidnappings. The girl arranges for her clothes to be taken secretly to the future hideout, and on the appointed day she is captured somewhere on the road in the fields or on the river by the kidnaping party led by her suitor.

She is expected to kick and bite her abductors. Although there may be witnesses, they would not dream of interfering, unless they are relatives of the girl, in which case they are supposed to put up a great fight.

At her home, as soon as her disappearance is discovered her enraged father is supposed to run to the alarm drum-tower and beat the kulkul, asking who took his daughter, but, of course, no one knows. Even a searching party may be organized for the fun of it, but after a while they return breathless and empty handed.

The great marriage ceremony is supposed to take place within 42 days after the kidnaping, but in some cases it has been performed considerably later if there is not enough money immediately available for the festivities.

Gnome Rat Is Relative

of Common Kangaroo Rat

The gnome rat is a close relative of the fairly common kangaroo rat of the West. It lives only in a very limited area in southern Idaho and Nevada, which is covered with wind-blown sand of a certain texture. In this sand the rat burrows at the feet of rare bushes. So fine is its adaptation to this peculiar environment—where hardly any other mammal can live, so that it is fairly free from enemies—that it cannot exist in a region where the sand is a trifle coarser or finer.

Its feet and toes are heavily furred. In other words, it apparently wears "sandshoes" to keep it from sinking into the drifts of fine sand. These are much the same principle as snowshoes.

Another peculiarity, according to a writer in the Washington Star, is that, living in a waterless desert, it "carries water bottles" around with it. About the only food is the seed of a tiny shrub that is scattered over this queer desert. This shrub bears pods, each of which contains a droplet of water. The gnome rat found this out, gathers the pods and carries them around in its cheek pouch and even stores them for the winter so that it will have water when needed.

Every now and then they are almost completely wiped out by starvation. They are strictly nocturnal in their habits, remaining crouched in their burrows during the day.

Training Elephants

In India, Burma, and Siam elephants have been domesticated since written history began, being used as beasts of burden and for hunting. The period of training lasts many years, says a writer in the Chicago Tribune, and a well-trained animal will frequently command a price as high as $5,000. Contrary to general belief, the big African elephants are about as amenable to training as their Indian cousins. The armies of ancient Carthage used African elephants in war, and, according to Vevers: "At Api, in the Congo, there were in 1928 fifty elephants in training, nineteen of which had completed the course and were working animals. The training is done by local natives who learned their business from Indian mahouts imported as instructors. Half-grown wild elephants are chosen for training, which is carried on for ten years before the animal is strong enough for regular work. Attempts to shorten the period of training in the past have always ended in the death of the animal."

"The Thinker"

The statue "The Thinker," is by Auguste Rodin, the greatest of French sculptors. His original idea was to employ the figure above a museum doorway he had been commissioned to make, and a study which had this use in view was displayed in Paris in 1899. But he did not use it for that purpose, and the huge bronze "The Thinker," was not exhibited until 1904, in Paris. Soon afterward it was shown in plaster at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis. This plaster figure is now in the Metropolitan museum in New York. There are several bronze casts in this country—including the one at the entrance of the Cleveland Museum of Art, another in Detroit, and a third in Golden Gate park, San Francisco. The first cast of "The Thinker" is in the Rodin museum in Paris. Rodin was born in 1840 and died November 17, 1917.

—Philadelphia Light Horse Flag

It is believed that the Philadelphia Light Horse flag was carried by the troop that escorted Gen. Washington from Philadelphia to New York in June, 1775, when he was on his way to take command of the army at Cambridge. The banner, in possession of the Philadelphia city cavalry, derives special interest from the fact that its caption is formed of 13 stripes, alternating blue and silver, probably the earliest use of stripes on an American flag.

We're Not Graphologists But—

RECENTLY we read a handwriting analysis. Among other things the graphologist detected that the writer was thrifty.

Well, we're not graphologists. But, we too, can tell whether or not a person is thrifty. It all depends on where we see his handwriting. On deposit slips, for instance, it's a sure sign of thriftiness.

Brockton Fair This Year Of Great Appeal to Women

Brockton Fair holds a greater appeal for women this year than ever before in its 63-year history. During Fair week, Sept. 12 to 18, femininity will revel in a style show, needlework exhibit, cooking school, flower show and many other activities. Women from 15 years upward will vie for pulchritude prizes in the beauty pageant. They will skim over the barriers on spirited jumpers in the horse-show ring. They will exhibit prize dogs, cattle and poultry. Last but not least, one daring miss, Ruby Cameron from Canada, will compete against three of the world's most famous balloonists of the male sex in the spectacular international balloon race, on Tuesday, Sept. 14.

Every new item in the world of fashion for both women and children will be on display at the style show being staged under the personal direction of Mollie Hurley Rollins of Brockton in the Industrial Arts Building from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 daily.

Seventy-five models, including juniors, will parade on the runway in a complete style presentation. Entertainers, including Peggy Eames of Hollywood "Our Gang" fame and the dance team of Nixon and Andre, will enliven this enthralling fashion revue.

The women's needlework exhibits, to be seen in the Food Show Building, also will run during the entire week of the Fair. Revived this year, this women's specialty is offering money prizes in 25 classes including quilts, rugs, bedspreads, tablecovers and gowns, and is being judged by Miss Mary S. Dean, Brockton, and Miss Blanche W. Eames, Segreanett.

"Cousin Mary" of the Brockton Enterprise and Times is superintendent. Cooking school sessions are being held daily in the Food Show Building, 2 to 3 and 7 to 8. Food manufacturers and Brockton Gas Light Company will furnish lecturers, all outstanding experts in their specialty.

Brockton Fair's flower show promises to be the best in years, with the New England Gladiolus Society and New England Carnation Growers' Association cooperating. Francis M. Bibby, Medford, and Russell S. Davenport, Marlboro, are chairmen of the gladiolus and carnation shows, respectively.

A special exhibit of the Brockton Fair Garden Club, featuring a display of annuals, will be in charge of Mrs. Ruth Faulk White, Brockton. Mrs. White also is supervising the children's flower and vegetable exhibits.

Brockton girls are making a concerted bid for the title of Miss America of 1938 in the daily beauty pageant. A new screen star may be discovered in this contest, of which moving pictures will be made and shown during the Fair.

Huntington a Popular School for Newton Boys

For several years more boys have entered the Huntington School from Newton than from any other city. When the school year opens on Sept. 22nd, many boys from Newton will be among those enrolled.

The Huntington School is conveniently located for boys who live in the Newton district. The school can be very easily reached either by train or bus. There is an extensive well supervised parking area where boys who drive to school may park their cars without expense.

Mr. Sampson, the headmaster of the school, will be in his office from now until the opening day for the purpose of enrolling boys and arranging schedules. The Huntington School accepts only boys who wish to be prepared for college and more than 95 per cent of Huntington School graduates have entered the leading colleges and universities.

Instruction is offered in all college preparatory subjects beginning with the eighth grade. The school has a special course for boys who need one or two years of college preparatory preparation before entering college. The school's faculty is made up of men who are well trained in their field of teaching and who have a sympathetic interest in the problems with which boys are faced.

In addition to its program of formal studies, the school also has an excellent extra-curricular program including carefully supervised athletics, physical training, hobby clubs, and musical organizations. The general aim of the school is the all-round development of the boy—the specific aim is effective preparation for admission to college.

Huntington is a fully accredited school; the certificate privilege having this year been renewed for the maximum period.—Adv.

Powers' Paragraphs

We are not taking sides in the controversy between Governor Quinn of Rhode Island and Walter O'Hara, head of the Narragansett race track. We believe it would be a good thing for Rhode Island and Massachusetts if legalized pari-mutuel gambling at horse and dog races will be outlawed. But, when Governor Quinn asserts that he will order the arrest of O'Hara because the latter allegedly called him a liar, Mr. Quinn must think he resembles one of the former European monarchs who had subjects imprisoned for "lese majesty."

The two DiStasios, father and son, who committed the fiendish murder on Daniel Crowley at Hudson in May, 1935, in a plot to collect a large insurance policy issued on the elder DiStasio, have again received a reprieve from Gov. Hurley; this time until Nov. 8. These cold-blooded killers were not sentenced until two years after their atrocious crime was committed. The father was finally sentenced to be electrocuted in August, and sentence was imposed on the son later. Then Gov. Hurley and his Council, at the behest of William Scharton, counsel for the DiStasios, reprieved the sentence until September. Now, they grant another reprieve. Is it any wonder that more and more murders are being committed in Massachusetts?

Patrolman Lawrence Murphy, the brave Newton policeman who has been waging a heroic battle for life at the Newton Hospital for the past three weeks, is apparently losing his fight. A clean, courageous young man, devoted to his family, it will be deplorable if he becomes the second Newton police victim of the despicable criminal Simpson, to die. And young Aronofsky, attorney for Simpson, wants a change of venue from Middlesex County because sentiment is strongly against Simpson there.

Of the 38 coast guard stations discontinued on Sept. 1st, two were on Cape Cod; those at Pamet River and Peaked Hill Bar. The latter was regarded as one of the two most dangerous points sailing vessels encountered in rounding the Cape.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage of real estate given by Coleman Miller and Bertha G. Miller, his wife, in her right, both of Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, to the Workmen's Co-operative Bank, a Massachusetts Corporation with its usual place of business in Boston, Suffolk County, Massachusetts, dated December 21, 1936, and registered with the Land Court for the South Registry District of Middlesex County, being Document No. 144292, as noted on Certificate of Title No. 33103, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises on Tuesday, October 5, 1937, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, the real estate described in said mortgage, to wit:—

"The land with the buildings thereon, situated in said Newton, bounded and described as follows:

NORTHEASTERLY by East Boulevard Road, seventy (70) feet;

Quartered Oak
Quartered oak is oak lumber that has been quarter-sawn. To produce the quarter-grain effect the oak log is first cut into quarters, and then boards sawed by cutting alternately from each face of the quarter. Lumber sawed this way not only shows the grain advantageously but does not warp or check as much as lumber sawed in the customary manner.

First Indian Reservation
It is believed that an Indian reservation established at Indian Mills in Burlington county, New Jersey, in 1753, was the first such reservation within the limits of the United States.

Aldermen Appoint Committee To Investigate Activities of Police Department Mechanic

Alderman McCabe Says Department Morale Injured By Latitude Given Cullen by Mayor

Following up charges he made at a meeting of the Board of Aldermen recently that the morale of the police department is being adversely affected because Sergeant Mechanic Bart Cullen had been given authority by Mayor Childs to purchase supplies and equipment without authority from Chief Hughes, Alderman Frank McCabe of Ward 1 at the meeting on Monday night made a motion that "a committee of five members of the Board, including the President, be appointed to investigate the office of Sergeant Mechanic of the police department and all his work, and recommend to the Board what, in their opinion, should be done to remedy existing conditions." The motion was seconded by Alderman Edward Fahey of Ward 1, and passed unanimously by the Board of Aldermen.

McCabe prefaced his motion by saying that some time ago a report was made at a meeting of the Board about the situation in the police department where the Sergeant Mechanic does as he pleases and is not subject to the chief, and that this condition was bad for the discipline in the department. He remarked, "If we expect the chief to do a good job, he should have proper authority." Mr. McCabe commented that the only repercussion he had observed from that report was an item in a Waltham paper, in which Mayor Childs was quoted as having said to a reporter relative to the report in question: "That's bunk." McCabe said: "We ought to debunk it." The Ward 1 Alderman said he intended to say more, but, because of the death that evening of Patrolman Murphy, he would only mention one matter, and that was the recent purchase of a new police ambulance.

Alderman McCabe said that an ambulance body has been superimposed on a truck chassis and that two articles criticizing the ambulance had recently been published in papers. He said that while he had nothing to do with the writing of the criticisms, he is quite in accord with them. McCabe stated that at a recent meeting of the Finance Committee of the Aldermen, Chief Hughes was asked what he had to do with the purchase of the new ambulance, and the chief answered that he had nothing to do with it.

The committee appointed by President Floyd includes Aldermen Inches, McCabe, Fahey, Walker and Floyd. Among the appropriations made at the regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night were $70,000 for the new street to be built from Parker street to the Oak Hill school, $4000 for plans of the new school which will replace the Franklin School at West Newton, $1500 for a pageant next month in observance of the sesquicentennial of the United States Constitution, $758.96 for fire insurance on the library building, $700 for a drain at the new Richardson playground at Newton Highlands, $975 for inserting five gates for hydrants on Winchester street, $245 for extending the water main in Waban ave., $770 for extending the water main in Bound Brook Road, A bond issue of $70,000 to finance the new street at Oak Hill was authorized. This street is to bear the unusual, if not poetic name of "Thoroughfare Road." Other appropriations made for the construction of streets under the betterment law included—Margaret Road, Newton Upper Falls, $4351; Walnut Hill Road, Newton Highlands, $10,096; St. Mary's street, Lower Falls including cement sidewalks and granite curbing, $13,435.

Alderman McKay reporting for the Finance Committee, in the absence of Chairman Bowen of the committee, explained that the $1500 for the historic observance with the long title is to defray the expenses of exercises in the schools and for a pageant on October 28, 29 and 30. The anniversary (Continued on Page 8)

Frada Girl Freed Of Murder Charge

Frances Frada, the 17-year-old Cambridge girl who was the companion of Edward Simpson on the night of Aug. 21st, when Simpson shot Patrolman Bell and Murphy of Newton, was exculpated in the Newton court on Monday. Jeannette Chisholm, assistant district attorney, appeared before Judge Allen and informed him that District Attorney Bishop desired the charge dropped against the Frada girl of being an accessory before the fact in the murder of Patrolman Bell of the Newton police. As the Frada girl was not in court, Judge Allen informed Miss Chisholm that he could not act on the matter unless the Frada girl appeared. Word was sent to Sheriff McElroy at East Cambridge and the defendant was brought to the court room in the custody of a matron and a deputy sheriff. Judge Allen then announced that because of lack of evidence the charge against the Frada girl would be dropped.

Patrolman Bell, after he had been taken to the Newton Hospital, stated that the girl had taken his belt and holster off while Simpson had him covered with a gun. Persons residing in the vicinity of Watertown and Washburn sts., Nonantum, where Bell was threatened by Simpson, had stated that the girl apparently had no time to disarm Bell before the policeman was forced to enter the automobile in which Simpson was riding. Patrolman Murphy stated at the hospital that the girl had warned him, when he met her on Watertown st., before he started to catch up with Simpson's car, that the latter was cowering Bell with a gun. The girl denied having removed Bell's holster.

Patrolman Murphy Loses Long Fight For Life

Patrolman Lawrence E. Murphy of the Newton police department, who was shot on the night of August 21 by Edward Simpson (alias Schwartz and Glynn) lost a long and brave fight for life on Monday night at 7:11 when he succumbed at the Newton Hospital from the wound inflicted on him by the cold blooded killer. Murphy had made a remarkable struggle against overwhelming odds, but, complications ensued which caused his death. He seemingly was recovering until the latter part of August when staphylococcus infection developed, together with bronchial pneumonia which set in the last few days of Murphy's life. The bullet which came from the criminal's gun as Murphy drove alongside the outlaw's automobile on Watertown st. the Saturday night that he and Patrolman Bell were fatally wounded, entered to the left of Murphy's abdomen, passed through the policeman's liver and the renal capsule of his right kidney, and emerged at the patrolman's back. For three weeks Dr. Herbert Dunphy of Newton Centre and Dr. Richard Smith of Wellesley Hills, both members of the surgical staff at Newton Hospital, worked skillfully and incessantly day and night to save Murphy's life. When they lost their battle of 23 days last Monday evening, Dr. Dunphy was almost in a state of collapse from his efforts. Members of the Newton police force who donated their blood in transfusions, also were responsible for prolonging Murphy's life.

The dead policeman was born in Brighton 31 years ago, the son of Jeremiah and Lillian (Charlton) Murphy; both his parents being natives of Newton. He attended Brighton High and Mechanic Arts High School and was appointed a member of the reserve force of the Newton police department in 1930. He was appointed a regular patrolman on April 2, 1935. When the motorcycle squad was re-established several months ago, Murphy was assigned to it. Ten years ago he married Rachel Sullivan of Hyde Park. He is survived by his widow, four children, three daughters and a son, the eldest 9 years of age; his parents; a sister, Mrs. Joseph Sokolsky; Dec. 12, Dr. David Seabury; Jan. 9, Hon. Agnes Macphail; Jan. 23, Homer P. Rainey; Feb. 6, Arthur Garfield Hays; Feb. 20, Raymond Moley.

Patrolman Murphy's funeral was held on Thursday morning from his late home at 165 Chapel st., Nonantum. Nearly 100 policemen marched in the procession, including over 75 members of the Newton department and delegations from Watertown, Needham and other surrounding places. Serg. Thomas Leehan was in command of the police and the pall bearers included Patrolmen Dalton, Goddard, Keating, McGrath, McHugh and J. Smith. The funeral service was held at Our Lady's Church where a solemn requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. John Sheridan, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. Russell Hales as deacon, and Rev. Daniel Riordan as sub-deacon. In the throng which filled the church were members of the Newton city government and department heads, and police officials from many cities. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

To Aid Families of Slain Policemen

Next Sunday afternoon, September 19, at 2:30 o'clock a meeting will be held in the Newton district court at West Newton for the purpose of obtaining suggestions as to ways and means to raise a fund for the widow of Patrolman Henry Bell and the family of Patrolman Lawrence Murphy. These two Newton policemen were fatally shot on the night of August 21st by the criminal Simpson. Bell had been married but a few months. Murphy is survived by his widow, and four children, the oldest of whom is 8 years of age. All citizens who may be interested in assisting, are invited to be present.

Forum To Question Demands Of Labor

Symposium in Place of CIO Leader—Moley Is Climax Speaker—Tickets on Sale

Membership tickets for the third season of the Newton Community Forum made their appearance this week and revealed that the eight meetings will include as climax speaker Raymond Moley, first of the "brain trusters" who early broke with President Roosevelt and since, as editor of "Today," has been outspoken in his criticism of the President's program and policies.

The Forum's executive committee announced following its meeting of last Tuesday that Louis Glaser of Chestnut Hill was chosen to succeed Mrs. Elinor C. Peabody of Newton Centre as director of publicity for the Forum. Mr. Glaser, who heads the national advertising firm of Boston which bears his name, has accepted. He will be assisted by C. Elwood Drake, Director of Research and Guidance in the Newton schools, Miss Mary Ballard of West Newton, Herbert Allen of the Boston Herald, Edward Powers of the Newton Graphic, Mrs. Adolph Giesberg of Newton Centre, and Mrs. Glaser.

At the same meeting the Forum's directors resolved the impasse produced by John L. Lewis's declining to speak here by arranging a symposium on "Labor's Needs and Demands, and How Labor proposes to realize them." John F. Gately of Springfield, president of the State Federation of Labor and Thomas C. Burns, vice-president of the United Rubber Workers of America have been invited to contribute their differing points of view, and James T. Moriarty, Commissioner of Labor and Industry, has been asked to present the Commonwealth's interest in their problem.

Objection to Mr. Lewis's coming surprised the Forum's directors who have adhered to the policy of giving a fair hearing to all sides. The meeting on Nov. 14.

The remainder of the series, as announced on the membership tickets, is Oct. 31, H. V. Kaltenborn; Nov. 14, Symposium on Labor; Nov. 28, George Sokolsky; Dec. 12, Dr. David Seabury; Jan. 9, Hon. Agnes Macphail; Jan. 23, Homer P. Rainey; Feb. 6, Arthur Garfield Hays; Feb. 20, Raymond Moley.

Newton Police Back From Camp Perry

Patrolmen David Dalton and John McGrath of the Newton police returned last Thursday after having competed at the national police pistol competition at Camp Perry, Ohio. The contests were participated in by 1769 policemen from all parts of the country. The championship was won by E. A. Jones of Los Angeles, who scored 289 out of a possible 300. The closeness of the competition was proved by the fact that Dalton and McGrath, tying for 16th place, scored 286, only 3 points below the winner. McGrath won a trophy for winning second place in a field firing contest on the opening day of the meet. Both officers took a training course at Camp Perry in pistol, sub-machine gun and field firing. They were accompanied by Richard Dwyer, coach of the Newton police in revolver shooting.

Find House Looted At Newton Centre

The home of T. Lawrence Davis at 131 Lake av., Newton Centre, was entered and ransacked during the absence of the Davis family this summer. When Mr. Davis returned to his Newton Centre home last Thursday he found a cellar window broken, and also that the door into the house from a porch had been forced. The burglars did not obtain jewelry owned by the Davis family, because it had been locked in a safe which was so concealed that the intruders did not find it.

City Will Pension Widows of Bell And Murphy

Action which was to have been taken at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen, on last Monday night, relative to granting a pension to the widow of Patrolman Henry Bell, was postponed because of the death earlier that night of Patrolman Lawrence Murphy. Both policemen were fatally shot on the night of Aug. 21st by Simpson, while in the performance of duty. Alderman McKay, acting as chairman of the Finance Committee of the Board, explained the postponement in the matter of providing for a pension for Mrs. Bell, who had been married but several months to the slain officer. McKay said the matter of giving financial assistance to the dependents of both policemen will be taken up together.

Lieut. Governor Kelly announced on Tuesday that he would ask the Governor's Executive Council to appropriate $5000 for the widow and four children of Patrolman Murphy, and $2500 for the widow of Patrolman Bell. The council, however, took no action on Kelly's proposal. John V. Mahoney, secretary to Gov. Hurley, called attention to the State law which makes it mandatory for a city or town to provide financial assistance for dependents of policemen killed in the performance of duty.

Mayor Childs had sent the following recommendation to the Board of Aldermen regarding a pension for Mrs. Bell—"By authority of the 'Annuities and Compensation Act' passed by the Legislature in 1935, I recommend an appropriation sufficient to provide an annual pension of $1,000 for the widow of the late Henry G. Bell, a faithful police officer who lost his life in the discharge of his duties."

Annual Mission At Our Lady's Church

The annual mission at Our Lady's Church, Newton, will start next Sunday and last for two weeks. The first week will be for the women's mission and the second for the men. The mission will be conducted by members of the Redemptorist Order, Rev. James Trageser, Rev. James Bolger, and Rev. John Schultz. Father Schultz is a former Newton boy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Schultz of Cabot st., Newtonville. He was ordained four years ago and has already made a reputation as a preacher and orator. During the past summer he gave a course in preaching at the Catholic University in Washington, D. C.

West Newton Man Bitten By Dog

Judge William F. Bacon Dies —Pay Tribute at Memorial Service in Newton Court

Prominent Scion of Old Newton Family Had Been Leader in Civic and Business Life

At the Newton district court on Monday morning a memorial service was held as a tribute to Judge William F. Bacon who was presiding justice at the court for nearly 20 years. Judge Lloyd Allen entered the court room accompanied by Judge Thomas Weston and Mayor Childs. Immediately following the convening of court Judge Allen delivered the following tribute:—

"Before taking up the cases on the docket for this morning, it seems as though the court should formally recognize the death of Judge Bacon, the presiding justice of this court. We, therefore, have the two Associate Justices here and the Mayor of the City of Newton to pay, in our small way, our respects to Judge Bacon."

"Addison once said, 'To be perfectly just is an attribute of the Divine nature. To be so, to the utmost of our abilities, is the glory of man.' William F. Bacon, our presiding justice of the District Court of Newton for past 20 years, was born in Newton 73 years ago, in 1863 and died yesterday, leaving behind him a host of friends who deeply grieve his passing. He graduated from Harvard in 1885 and then from Harvard Law School. As an undergraduate of Harvard, he was awarded a Phi Beta Key for scholastic merit. He received his degree from Law School 'Cum Laude.' He was appointed an Associate Judge of this court in 1902, and upon the death of Judge Kennedy, he was made the Presiding Justice of this court by the then Governor Samuel W. McCall in August, 1917."

Judge Bacon had been a member of the Hunnewell Club, Eight O'Clock Club, president of the Newton Savings Bank, director of the Newton Trust Company and affiliated with a great many more organizations. The District Court of Newton, over which he presided, has in its judicial district the city of Newton and only the city of Newton.

Born in this city, with prominent forebears, he had a great and sincere devotion to the city of his birth. While he was a learned jurist, well versed in the knowledge of law, his spirit of fairness and the soundness of his judgment worked for real and impartial justice in his court.

"I, too, was appointed by Governor McCall in 1917 and have served for twenty years as his Associate. I cannot adequately express my personal grief at the loss of Judge Bacon. I sincerely say that since 1916 when Judge Bacon left the Bench due to illness and I became judge, I have, to the best of my ability, sincerely and honestly tried to carry on his judicial duties. The heritage he has left this court is a great one to live up to."

"My Associate, Tom Weston, and the Mayor are here to pay respects to the outstanding citizens of this community who accomplished much and with little noise. A good citizen and a sound lawyer, intelligent, public spirited, patriotic and honest. I have never heard one word of criticism of his private, his public or his professional life. An upright judge he held the scales of justice in equal poise, always fair."

"I remember when Judge Kennedy died and the morning when Judge Bacon came into the office in town and said to me and my friend, Tom Weston, 'I think I would like to be judge of the Newton Court. Will you write a letter to Governor McCall.' And I said to him: 'We have already appointed you but we would be glad to write a letter' and I think we both wrote as fine a letter as we have written to anybody about a man."

"Honored in the community, respected in his profession and loved by his friends, he is going to be missed in this court, he is going to be missed down at the bank, he is going to be missed in his church, he is going to be missed on the street."

the life and memory of Judge Bacon. Lives of great men all remind us that we can make our lives sublime."

Mayor Childs gave the following eulogy:

"I think I have known Judge Bacon longer than anyone else in Newton, outside of my own family."

"A wise man once said, 'A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches and loving favor rather than silver and gold.'"

"The man to whose memory we pay a brief tribute this morning, was a man who bore a good name. He was a Newton boy, born and bred. He was raised in a home where the name of God was always kept in the forefront. He was a product of our Newton schools and, as Judge Allen has said, graduated from Harvard College and Harvard Law School. On his watch chain he always carried a Phi Beta Kappa Key. That is not a gift, it is earned."

"Fitting himself for service, he served well and whatever he undertook it always seemed to me that he tried to do the best he knew how. That is sometimes difficult if your work is not appreciated. As a young lawyer he succeeded from the very start and mainly because older men knew him and respected his sound judgment."

"Until lately he did not seem to grow old, and yet, in a way he was living on borrowed time, because the days of our years are threescore and ten. His work is done but his spirit will still abide with us although his face we shall no longer see."

"He will be remembered as one of the outstanding citizens of this community who accomplished much and with little noise. A good citizen and a sound lawyer, intelligent, public spirited, patriotic and honest. I have never heard one word of criticism of his private, his public or his professional life. An upright judge he held the scales of justice in equal poise, always fair."

"Honored in the community, respected in his profession and loved by his friends, he is going to be missed in this court, he is going to be missed down at the bank, he is going to be missed in his church, he is going to be missed on the street."

LONG LIVE THE CONSTITUTION!

One hundred and fifty years ago "our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal." For a century and a half that tradition, so ably expressed by Lincoln, nearly seventy-five years ago, has exemplified this country.

On September 17, 1787 a convention of the states ratified the original Constitution, consisting of a preamble and seven articles which had been signed by members of the first Continental Congress. Today we begin the sesquicentennial observance of that event with reverence and respect—and with hope and determination that the nation which has thus long endured may continue to progress toward an even greater freedom and prosperity.

Our forefathers probably had no conception of the rapid growth that was to come, nor of the complexity of problems that a population of well over one hundred millions would bring. Yet they had a keen recognition of the importance of individual freedom for which they had so valiantly fought and won. The birth of their liberty was too sacred to ever relinquish. It is also too sacred for us to relinquish.

Today we are in a whirlpool of social, economic and industrial problems which have, in some respects, upset our balance. Many of us jump too hastily for suggested panaceas while others of us prolong beyond all reason our study and decisions as to our actions. There is a middle course which we find within the Constitution itself. That is the right of amendment to the Constitution. If the desire for a change is overwhelming it can be accomplished with little delay. If the change is controversial in nature it cannot take place without deliberation. This right of amendment must never be relinquished.

Our forefathers realized the fundamental need for a form of government that could never be broken down. Thus the first three articles of the original document established the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of this government by the people, for the people, and of the people. This division of power set up a balance which is as essential to the conduct of our free nation as the rights of amendment and liberty. Upon the continuation of this balance depends our ability to retain those inalienable rights.

Although the observance of the sesquicentennial of the Constitution is historically significant it is perhaps of even greater importance from an educational and psychological standpoint. In the maelstrom of a perplexed civilization we have in some degree lost our sense of proportion. The turning of our thoughts upon the Constitution and its significance cannot help but restore our common sense outlook upon our national life to the end that we may find a more beneficial solution of the difficult problems besetting us. Long live the Constitution of these United States!

IMPARTIAL JUSTICE FOR ALL

Among early settlers of the town of Newton were members of a family which was destined to play an important part in the development of our city. In looking back over the years it is only natural that members of that family came to be regarded as honored and trustworthy citizens. For the past twenty years there have been few persons who have not heard of a descendant of that early family who upheld in every respect the finest traditions of his ancestors. Judge William A. Bacon sat upon the bench of the district court of Newton and by reason of his humanitarianism, the depth of his character, and a keen recognition of the human weaknesses of others, rendered impartial justice to all. In paying tribute to him Mayor Childs rightly says that he will be missed in court, at the bank, at church and on the street. Newton citizens hold dear the memories of many of the Bacon family but none more reverently than the late justice, whose life exemplified all for which one could hope in this material world.

MAY THEIR DEATHS BE NOT IN VAIN

The sympathy of Newton citizens goes out to the family of Motorcycle Officer Lawrence E. Murphy, second member of the Newton police force to succumb to a gangman's bullet. Fighting valiantly for life against heavy odds for three weeks the Newton officer struggled against complications which threatened and which finally overcame his weakening resistance. Though his life was not spared we trust that he and his fellow officer, Henry Bell, may not have died in vain—that out of the tragedy may come at least a partial clean-up and control of crime that will lead to respect and reverence for law and order which is so lacking everywhere today.

Kiwanis Club

The weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club at the Charles River Country Club was an overflow event with many representatives from the Wellesley Club and several from the Roslindale-West Roxbury Club. Tom Burns attended his first meeting in many months and his fellow members were greatly pleased to see that Tom is once more able to be around, healthy and well again. International Trustee Jim Gallagher of the Newton Club had as his guest Judge Murray of Milford.

The guest speaker brought to the club through the efforts of Bob Sprague of the Newton Trust Company was William J. O'Keefe, new Dean of the Boston College Law School, who in keeping with constitution week in Kiwanis delivered a scholarly address on the constitution.

He traced the history of the constitution from the events leading up to the signing of that great document on September 17, 1787 down through to the present day pointing out that the purpose of the constitution was to guarantee to all men the inalienable right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

He showed how the various states ratified the constitution only after there was attached thereto the Bill of Rights. He told of the workings of the constitution providing for the Legislative, Executive and Judicial departments of the government, the duties of the Legislature or Congress being to make the laws, the Executive or President to administer and the Judiciary to pass on the constitutionality of the law as enacted by the Congress.

It was interesting to reflect on the fact that in the one hundred and fifty years of our government the Supreme Court has declared unconstitutional only seventy-eight acts of Congress and of these sixty were declared unconstitutional only in part.

The supreme court is and has been the last resort of justice for man after he has been turned down by every other court of law in the land and as such it has always done its duty in a manner which reflects the honor and wisdom of its members.

In closing Dean O'Keefe recalled the sentiment expressed by Calvin Coolidge to the effect that ours is not a government of force but is one of liberty and justice and will remain so as long as we abide by our constitution. It should be remembered by all good citizens that the power to change the constitution lies not in the hands of the Executive, Legislative, or Judicial branches of our government but by means of Amendment as voted on by the people.

90th Birthday of Hon. A. L. Harwood

Hon. Albert L. Harwood of 854 Beacon st., Newton Centre celebrated his 90th birthday last Friday at the home of his son, Leslie Harwood, 945 Beacon st. A reception was held from 3 to 5 p. m. and about 150 called to congratulate Mr. Harwood, including relatives and friends from Northampton and Ware. Mr. Harwood was born in Hardwick and has been a resident of this city for 60 years. He formerly taught school in Fall River and was principal of the Mason School at Newton Centre. Studying law, he took up the practice of that profession in 1890. He served as a Representative from Newton in the Legislature for 3 years, and was also a State Senator for the same length of time. He was for years a member of the Board of Trustees of the Wrentham State School.

Bids For Culvert At Hammond Brook

Street Commissioner Mahoney opened bids at City Hall last Thursday for the construction of a culvert for Hammond Brook, near Chesley rd., Newton Centre. Of the sixteen bids the lowest was that of N. Cibotti, Hyde Park; $5402. The Street Commissioner recommended that the contract be awarded to Cibotti. The other bidders and their figures were: Otto Theurer, Watertown, $5559.60; A. R. Doyle, Inc., $5629.20; Pasquale Contracting Co., $5954; John Williams, $6132; Engineering Service & Construction Co., $6146; O'Malley & Delaney, $6342; Edward M. Matz, Inc., $6350.22; Middlesex Construction Co., $6369; P. DeCristofaro, $7084; A. Garuffaldi, $7586; National Engineering & Construction Co., $7742; A. Singarella, $8494. R. Zoppo, $8524; John MacDonald Construction Co., $9302; Tocci Bros., $17,140.

Arrest Youth Who Slept In Old Auto

Henry Drouin, 22, formerly of Brookline, was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday charged with vagrancy. Patrolman Hoyt and Taffe testified they had arrested the youth after they learned he had been using the body of an abandoned automobile as sleeping quarters for the past three months. The "bungalow" is located in an excavation off Boylston st. near the Brookline border, where the cellar of a house formerly stood. The policeman stated that Drouin's explanations as to his means of livelihood were vague. The young man asserted he was not a vagrant and that he supports himself by doing odd jobs. He has no police record, other than having been arrested late one night in Boston as a suspicious character. Judge Allen continued the case until Tuesday, when Drouin was released on condition that he stay out of Newton.

Rotary Club

Dr. D. Brewer Eddy of Newtonville was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club on Monday at the Brae Burn Country Club. A large number of members, returned from summer vacations, were in attendance. There were also many guests from the Concord and Boston clubs.

Dr. Eddy, who has recently returned from a trip of several months to Russia and Europe gave a most interesting talk on his impressions of present-day England, Sweden, Denmark, Russia and Germany. He commented upon the leadership being displayed by England in the present Mediterranean crisis. He told of the success of the democratic co-operative movements in both Denmark and Sweden. Part of his discussion related to the purging of Russian industrial and political leaders and the secrecy surrounding these movements. He also discussed the religious crisis and the suppression of churches in Germany. In conclusion Dr. Eddy implied that the United States cannot long continue to isolate herself from critical political and economic world problems and that soon this country will be obliged to make clear her stand upon them.

PRE-INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC CLASSES FOR NEWTON CHILDREN

The All Newton Music School will open its fall season on Tuesday, September 28th, and along with its many and varied activities offers unusual opportunity in preparatory and supplementary group work in musical practice. Through the pre-instrumental and theory classes at the school, parents and teachers of children are enabled to ascertain various aptitudes for music and to formulate plans for the developing of promising pupils. This work has become an interesting and important phase of the school's activities.

The Music School is fortunate in having a specially gifted teacher for this work, Miss Ruth Crandell has been in charge of the classes for several years and has had unusual success in her groups for junior musicianship, which includes appreciation of melody, rhythm, harmony, form and mood in music along with playing from scores and expressing music by voice and by various band instruments. This coming season because of many requests, the school will offer classes to younger pupils for pre-instrumental musicianship. Children as young as six years of age will be admitted to classes in which informality of approach and excellent facilities will offer outstanding opportunity to the pupils and will build up a background for any future work along musical lines.

Classes will of necessity be limited and to insure reservation registration should be made in advance. This may be done at the Pelree School, West Newton, on Tuesday, Sept. 21, or at the Claffin School, Newtonville, on Thursday, Sept. 23, between two and five o'clock, at which time further information may be obtained.

Schoolmaster Moore did right in refusing the keys of the Hyde School at Newton Highlands to workmen who wished to work there on Sunday in placing the ventilators.

62 YEARS AGO
Newton Republican, Sept. 18, 1875
We understand the members of the Fire Department are to be furnished with new badges.

The Grand Army Posts of Middlesex County will hold their annual parade at Old Cambridge on Wednesday, October 20. General A. B. Underwood of Newton has been chosen division commander.

Councilman Carpenter stated at the meeting on Monday night that he had no doubt but the recent severe rain will cost the city $10,000 to put its streets into as good condition as before the storm.

The fact is becoming more and more impressed upon thoughtful men that Newton needs a system of sewerage in connection with the introduction of water, and that both be done at the same time. Thousands of dollars would be saved to the city.

The contribution of Eliot Church for the American Board of Foreign Missions this year is $2300; $409 of this amount was contributed Sunday, September 9.

The lightning on Wednesday struck Col. Ellsworth's house on Hunnewell Hill. Little damage was done, the fluid passing down the lightning rod and darting off one side into the earth.

If some generous friend of the city would now donate a fine bell for the city hall tower, he would deserve the thanks of city officials and citizens as well.

In looking at the number of teams constantly passing over Washington st., West Newton, one wonders why the city did not widen this street the present season. It is strongly hinted that Councilman Carpenter took the responsibility for widening Washington st. in preference. Residents of Washington st. don't look through those classes. As far as the public is concerned Washington st. should have been attended to first; but Waltham st. probably best serves some private interests.

The trouble from bathers at Crystal Lake, Newton Centre, has been nearly abated. Care is taken by most of them to prevent exposure, which was the main objection.

The "girls of the period" congregate on Boylston, Jackson and Station sts. on Sunday evenings to the annoyance of dwellers in that vicinity. We understand they have been warned by the police to desist.

Hon. Leverett Saltonstall has been appointed by the Governor as chief commissioner for Massachusetts at the Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia. He will get a salary of $5000.

The proposed railroad to run from Boston to Newton Lower Falls through the centre of Newton now bids fair to become an accomplished fact at no distant day. It is to be a narrow gauge road, independent of any other railroad, and to have trains run every hour. (This road was never built. Ed.)

No more ten cent script will be issued by the Treasury Department. In its place we will have the silver dime.

At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday a second reading was given to the order appropriating $500 for the Firemen's Parade. Alderman Pratt asked if the parade was proposed simply as a matter of pleasure, or for discipline. If for the former, he thought the city cannot afford the expense. Alderman Barnes said the firemen favor it and the citizens do not know what we have in our fire department. The order was adopted.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Sept. 17, 1887
The Newton postoffice has 20 mails a day now; a new mail having been put on which arrives at 6:30 p. m.

A very desirable change appears to have been made in the entrance examinations to the high school. Instead of having them so easy that all applicants can pass, they are so rigid, that of the 30 applicants who applied this fall, only one passed, and he only on two subjects. If this policy is pursued, admission to the high school will mean as much as it used to.

Schoolmaster Moore did right in refusing the keys of the Hyde School at Newton Highlands to workmen who wished to work there on Sunday in placing the ventilators.

Powers' Paragaphs

There has been much ado the past few weeks about sex crimes as a result of attacks on little children by degenerates. Campaigns have been organized by police against suspects and special squads have been formed. Much publicity was given the arrests of a large group of inoffensive "down and outers" who were chafing out a miserable existence on a dump in Dorchester, where they resided in shacks. These men, a large percentage of them aged may have been failures socially, but they at least possessed the spirit of independence and preferred ragged individualism to being public dependents. And that is something in this age when so many prefer to chisel one way or another, from public treasuries, at the expense of their fellows who struggle to support themselves and bear the increasing burden of (largely concealed) taxes.

If Federal, State and municipal officials and police really desire to do offenses against children and women by pervers, why don't they stop the publication and sale of pornographic literature. The past few years have seen every few months, or more often, new magazines and pictorials for sale on newsstands and in stores, full of pictures and photographs which certainly tend to rouse the passions of degenerates and morons. And the same can be said for some of the "movies" shown in theatres in the U. S. A.

The death of Andrew Highlands at Martha's Vineyard last week recalled to some of us older residents of Newton those halcyon days of amateur baseball in this city when the Newton A. A. team was one of the outstanding amateur "nines" of Massachusetts. The Newton team played on grounds which later became the site of the Newton Centre playground. "Ed" Bowen was the leading factor in organizing and maintaining the team and among the players were such former Newton young men who starred in college baseball and other sports as Fred Hovey, Allen Hubbard, William Soule, George Warren, George Wales and others. The Newton team hired some famous college and semi-pro players as battery men. Among the star pitchers who twirled for Newton were Ed Dowd of Natick, big and jovial Jack Highlands, an elder brother of Andy; and Andy Highlands himself. Later, the Newton A. A. placed more emphasis on football than on baseball and shifted the scene of its activities to the athletic grounds which were located on Cedar street, Newton Centre.

Extra days off, even an extra week off, have been given to members of police departments in Boston, Cambridge and Watertown for their co-operation in running down and capturing Simpson, the murderer of two Newton policemen. Most of these policemen had worked day and night for about a week in trailing the murderer, and were entitled to compensatory time to make up for lost sleep and high tension efforts. One law enforcement official who was a vital factor in the capture of the criminal who shot Patrolmen Bell and Murphy, and took no additional time off from his duties for his accomplishments in this case is Sheriff Joseph McElroy of Middlesex County.

Y. M. C. A.

The Employed Officers' Planning Conference and Retreat was held at Camp Frank A. Day last week. An interesting incident of this splendid conference was the fact that Rev. Charles C. Noble of Glenn Falls, New York, the principal speaker at the conference, was a former Newton resident and Director of Camp Frank A. Day for three years. Other speakers were Prof. L. K. Hall of Springfield College and Mr. Wilmer J. Kitchen, New England Student Secretary.

Camp Day is being used more and more for conference purposes. The September meeting of the Board of Directors of the Newton Y. M. C. A. was held there on Sept. 10th. In the afternoon the directors enjoyed informal games, and a swim in the lake. One of the famous "Camp Day Steak Dinners" was served at 6:15 by Mr. Clyde G. Hess, the Camp Director. President Frank A. Day presided at the meeting. Reports regarding the 1937 season at Camp Day were given by Mr. Hess, Mr. H. W. Bascom, General Secretary, told about all summer work in Newton, and of the various improvements that have been made in the building. Among the most important included the painting of the gymnasium, swimming pool, assembly hall, a number of dormitory rooms, and repairs on the bowling alleys. At the close of the meeting, Mr. Day gave a very interesting account of his trip around the Gaspe Peninsula this summer. Among those present were Messrs. Arnold C. Barker, D. Webster Anders, Charles Wood Bond, Richard H. Lee, Lewis C. Bills, Martin A. Campbell, James B. Melcher and Warren K. Brimblecom.

Public Speaking Class
The men of Newton and vicinity will have an opportunity again this year of taking training in the art of Public Speaking under Mr. Edward M. Rowe. This will be the twelfth successive year he has taught the course at this "Y" to over two hundred enthusiastic men. The opening night will be Friday, October 1st.

Track

Members of the Newton Y. M. C. A. Track Team took four places and tied for one place in the meet conducted Saturday at the Woburn High School Stadium by the 101st Infantry Veterans' Association. Bob Wheeler won the 100-yard dash in 10 2/5 seconds, and tied for third place in the Running County. Sheriff McElroy's intelligent questioning of prisoners arrested in connection with the case, not only assisted in obtaining information as to Simpson's hideout in Dorchester, but also the locating of the weapon used in the murder of the two policemen.

The appointment of Senator Hugo Black of Alabama to the Supreme Court bids fair to become a pain in the neck to President Roosevelt, if the charge that Black is a life member of the Ku Klux Klan is not disproved. If Black is a member of the night shirt vigilantes, he certainly should not remain on the Supreme Court. If it is true that the former Senator from Alabama is a Ku Kluxer, this fact could have been ascertained by one of the much publicized government G men, or Secret Service agents, as well as by a newspaper reporter.

In this column last week we had a paragraph concerning the quarrel between Walter O'Hara and Governor Quinn of Rhode Island. We wrote that we did not take sides in this controversy, and we twitted Mr. Quinn for ordering O'Hara's arrest because the latter called the Governor a liar. We had another paragraph telling of three young men we saw in Randolph who became panicky during a lightning storm. We have received a letter regarding these two paragraphs from one of our persistent critics, Mr. James P. Gallagher. The letter is as follows:

"Permit me to congratulate you on your marvelous display of self-restraint in refusing to take sides in the Quinn-O'Hara imbroglio. It does you credit, much more creditable than your syntax—it would be a good thing—if legalized gambling—will be outlawed." Has the subjunctive mood been abolished?

"To return to my first statement, another thought occurs to me. You may not be practicing self-control; you may be just slipping. This is the first row of which you had knowledge in which you refused to participate. If the language used by Mr. O'Hara to Governor Quinn is ground for criminal prosecution, I could send you to jail for a long time. And furthermore, you must have had a h— of a laugh at those timid creatures running away from a thunder storm, while you were driving away from it."

Mr. Gallagher should not be surprised at errors in syntax in our column. Newspaper English is notoriously defective. The writer is no Brander Matthews to start with, like most scribes does not correct his copy, and the GRAPHIC, unlike metropolitan newspapers has no rewrite men. Mr. Gallagher, however, does us an injustice when he states we were driving away from the thunder storm. Going the opposite direction from the frightened youths, we drove into the centre of the storm and followed it from Stoughton to Norwell. We displayed intrepidity, stupidity or something. Certainly, we did not use the discretion practiced by our critic when he broke the 220 yard record for fat men at Lakehurst, New Jersey, on the night of the Zeppelin disaster several months ago. He would also have broken the record for 440 yards, except that a high fence stopped him.

Broad Jump with a leap of 21 ft. 10 in. Arthur Linthwaite finished second in a 400 yard run, while Tom O'Connor also finished second in the 880 yard run. In the Mile Run, Joe Gallant took third place.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

GROOMING TWO TEAMS FOR FIRST GRID GAME

Coach Sanborn Has Fifteen Lettermen on Squad

Coach Ralph M. Sanborn of the Newton High School football team has a nucleus of fifteen lettermen from the 1936 squad from which to build this year's gridiron team. Early this week the Newton coach trimmed his varsity squad to forty-two ambitious youths from which he will groom two complete elevens for the opening game with Cambridge High and Latin School. This initial conflict of the local grid season will be staged before the Dickinson stadium, Newtonville a week from tomorrow afternoon, Sept. 25th at 2:30 p. m.

The death of Captain-elect Billy Johnston last winter having deprived the orange and black squad of a captain, Coach Sanborn for the year will be appointed by Coach Sanborn for each week's game. This plan was suggested by the boys last spring instead of electing a successor to the popular Newton back of last year.

The graduation of Brad Thompson and Bill Loud, regular and third string centres from last year's eleven and the loss of Don Forte, second string pivot man who has entered Exeter Academy, has given the Newton coach a staff of some concern. Bob Liming, sub-tackle last year, is being groomed for centre and has been taking over in excellent fashion. He is a junior, honor student, stands six feet and weighs around 180 lbs. Phil Chesaron, another big and strong lad, is also a leading candidate for the pivot position.

Two veteran guards, Ted Duffy and Earl Colvin will have been receiving the first call against the Cantabs, George Hutchings, a 1936 sub who earned his letter, will await an early call as a replacement. Bob Weldon and Steve Balkus, regular tackles a year ago are again standouts on the New ton squad. With Gino Castoldi, a sophomore letter winner a year ago, and Ben Mason, head man of the hockey team, are among the leading tackle candidates. Others showing considerable promise are Bob Carley, Phil Balch, and Carl Sundborg.

Six letter wearers are among a large group of backfield candidates. Guido Castoldi is holding down the wing-back position in Coach Sanborn's temporary first string quartet. Fred Fisher is the number two back and John Fitzgerald number three. The latter, a close pal of Johnston's, is a triple threat of considerable promise. He is rangy and fast, but lacks confidence in his own ability. With experience he may develop rapidly and overcome this deficiency. The fourth member of the so-called first string backfield is Stan Soshaki. A year ago he was captain and quarter-back of the intermediate varsity. He is small but rugged, weighs about 155 but is a heavy lad with the ability to size up the immediate situation. His drive and inspiration may well be the spark which will make the 1937 eleven click from the start.

Other veteran backs who will see much early service are Bud Hines, who with Paul Forte last year made numerous long runs, Red Dexter, and Billy Pescosolido, the high jumper. Hines is probably the fastest man on the squad. Once in the open he is a hard man to catch and bring down. Along with these players Coach Sanborn is looking over Maguire, a basketball and baseball player, Lowry, a transfer from Chicago who shows promise but lacks experience, Don Manchester, the tennis player, John Pescosolido, a distant relative of Billy, Frank Smith, DeEugenio, and Bill Cheney.

Thi afternoon the Newton squad, which had its first taste of contact work on Wednesday, will scrimmage with the Lexington High squad at Claffin Field. Coach Sanborn is being assisted, as last year, by Charlie Considine and "Pop" Johnson, hockey coach.

Aldermen Will Investigate Work Of Police Mechanic

of the signing of the Constitution comes this week. Mr. McKay stated that Hon. Leverett Saltonstall, chairman of the Newton committee in charge of the observance, had deemed it necessary to postpone the local celebration because so many Newtonians have just returned from their summer vacations. The additional sum for insurance on the library was caused because of an oversight in not providing for this insurance last February. Two small appropriations of $50.48 and $65.65 were made to provide salary increases for George E. Rice and Rose Feldberg of the City Engineer's staff. Alderman McKay explained that these increases and others for employees in the City Engineer's divisions were recommended by the Finance Committee early this year, and are well deserved. He said that Mr. Rice, who is in charge of one of the field crews of the division, has been in the service for 11 years and is getting $1800, while two other employees doing identical work receive $2300 each. Rice's salary will be advanced on October 1 to $2000 per annum. Miss Feldberg is chief clerk of the engineering department and has been receiving the minimum salary for such a rating—$1300. She will be advanced on October 4 to an annual rating of $1560. Miss Feldberg was admitted to membership in the Massachusetts bar in 1934. An appropriation of $60 for temporary clerks in the Welfare Department was refused. These clerks were to give vacations to clerks who were not employed on January 1st of this year.

The Board confirmed the reappointments by the Mayor of A. Stuart Pratt as a member of the Retirement Board, and John V. Spaulding as a member of the Licensing Board. It also confirmed the appointment of William A. Sproat as a member of the Planning Board. The appointment of John H. Murray of Newtonville as a constable, was laid on the table. Protests have been received that there are already enough constables in Newton, and they are not overburdened with work.

Cars Crash At Lowell Avenue

Cars operated by Ralph Sanborn of Simpson Terrace, Newtonville, and Clarence Randolph of 53 Windsor rd., Roxbury, collided on Washington st. at Lowell ave., Newtonville on Tuesday night. Mr. Sanborn, who is a member of the faculty of Newton High School, was crossing Washington st. when Randolph's car came along and crashed into the Sanborn car, knocking it about 40 feet. Mr. and Mrs. Sanborn received bruises and James Gerraughy of 1015 Washington st., riding in the Randolph car, was reported as having been slightly injured.

Boy on Bicycle Collides With Car

Richard Buddington, 15, of 15 Carter st., Newtonville, received an injury to his nose on Sunday night at 8:30 o'clock when the bicycle he was riding collided with an automobile driven by John Muther of Auburn. Muther reported that he was about to make a left turn from Washington st. onto Beach st. at Newtonville, when he saw the boy approaching on the bicycle. According to Muther, young Buddington was looking backward. Muther said he stopped his car quickly, and the bicycle hit the left front fender of the car.

Aldermen Refuse Zone Changes

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night several petitions for changes in zoning were turned down. A petition of Peter James for a change of zone from private residence to business of the area bounded by Centre, Boylston and Floral sts., Newton Highlands was refused. Alderman Rawson of the Claims and Rules Committee said that owners of abutting and adjacent properties had objected, and the Planning Board had disapproved of this petition. A petition of Julia Swartz for a change of zone from private residence to business of property on Washington st. between Lowell ave. and Brookside ave. was also refused. Alderman Rawson giving the same reasons. Mrs. Swartz has petitioned a number of times in recent years for the change. A public hearing was held before the committee on the preceding Wednesday night, and a considerable number of residents living in the neighborhood affected, were present to object. Attorney James Akins, arguing in favor of the petition, contended that all of Washington st. between Newton and West Newton, except the church property, should be zoned for business. Charles Slocum, speaking for the Newtonville Improvement Assn., said that there are more than enough stores in Newtonville now, and some of them are unoccupied. Marshall Cox of Brooks ave., refuted Akins' claim that 97 per cent of the area along Washington st. for 3 miles is now zoned for business.

The petition of the Homes Inc. through Peter Turchon to have a permit given to change a single house at 110 Walnut st. into a two-family house was refused. Alderman Rawson said there was a neighborhood uprising against this petition.

Indict Simpson on Robbery Charge

Edward P. Simpson (alias Schwartz and Flynn) who murdered Patrolman Bell of the Newton police, and shot Patrolman Murphy, was indicted by the Middlesex County grand jury last Friday on the charge of armed robbery on Louis Zazzera of Chapel st., Nonantum. Zazzera, who conducts a lunch room at Nonantum, was held up and robbed of $400 on the morning of August 19 on Watertown st., Watertown, almost at the spot where Simpson a few nights later shot the two Newton policemen. Zazzera's automobile was forced to the side of the street by an automobile containing two armed bandits, one of whom was masked. Simpson, while admitting having participated in other robberies, steadfastly denies that he was one of the bandits in the Zazzera hold-up.

Charged With Drunken Driving

Dr. John H. Jackson of 15 Washburn ave., Needham was arrested at Newton Centre on Tuesday night by Patrolmen Stevens and D. Keating after the car he was driving had been in a collision with another automobile. In the Newton court on Wednesday he was charged with drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. The case was continued until September 23.

Flynn, Vice Chief Ranger; Thomas Bryson, Financial Secretary; Thomas Fitzgerald, Treasurer; Mary D. McDonald, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Mabel Bryson, Senior Conductor; Margaret C. Vahney, Junior Conductor; Mrs. Della Mulcahy, Inside Sentinel; Charles Fagan, Outside Sentinel. The officers will be elected on Sept. 28. The court will conduct a Whist Party on Oct. 15.

Sparks Cause Fire At Newtonville

Sparks from a chimney started a fire on the roof of the house at 1 Walnut ter., Newtonville at 10:13 last Friday morning. The flames worked into the attic of the building after the wooden shingles became ignited, and caused damage estimated at about $2000. The house is owned by the Attleboro Savings Bank and occupied by Henry A. Perry.

Roger Sherman, Native of Newton, Not Forgotten On Constitution Day

Modest Tributes Placed By Ward School Children and Group of Local Citizens

The observance on last Friday of the sesqui-centennial of the Constitution of the United States had special significance for Newton. Because, in this city was born one of the men who took a very important part in the deliberations preceding the signing of the Constitution 150 years ago. On April 19, 1721, there was born in Newton, near what is now the corner of Waverley ave. and Montrose st., Roger Sherman.

In the 19th century the locality became known as Skinner Hill. William Sherman apparently did not prosper in Newton, for when Roger was a young boy, the family moved to Stoughton. There the boy Roger learned his father's trade and in 1743 migrated to New Milford, Connecticut, the new settlement on the Housatonic River. In 1761 Roger Sherman moved to New Haven, Connecticut, and be-

Sherman. He was the third son born to William and Mehitable (Wellington) Sherman who married on September 3, 1715. Both were natives of Watertown. Seven children were born to them. William Sherman was the grandson of Captain John Sherman, one of the settlers of Watertown. He became a cordwainer by trade and after his marriage lived for a short time in Charlestown. Then he and his family moved to that part of Newton near the foot of Waban Hill and close by where John Eliot had preached to the Nonantum Indians.

came a leading citizen of that community. In 1774 he became a member of the Continental Congress, assisted in drawing the Declaration of Independence and was one of the signers of that historic document. He was an outstanding member of the convention that formed the Constitution of the United States, and was largely responsible for effecting a compromise between the wrangling delegates when it seemed that the convention would end dismally without its members being able to agree. He was a (Continued on page 10)

Complications In Pension for Mrs. Bell And Mrs. Murphy

At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen a recommendation was received from Mayor Childs that an annual pension of $1000 be granted to the widow of Patrolman Henry Bell of Newton who was fatally wounded by the gangster Simpson on Aug. 21. Because Patrolman Murphy died on the evening of the meeting, action on the pension for Mrs. Bell was deferred. A condition exists which must be corrected. Bell had only been a regular member of the Newton police department for several months, and was not entitled to any benefit from the retirement system. The Mayor, therefore, recommended the maximum amount allowed as an annuity to his widow under the general laws. Murphy had been a member of the police department for a couple of years and was a member of the retirement association. Under the rules of the retirement pension system, she is entitled to half of her husband's pay as an annuity. This would be $970. Thus, Mrs. Bell, who was only recently married, would receive a larger annuity than Mrs. Murphy, who has four small children.

Complaints About Numbers On Curbs

Newton police on Tuesday ordered men who have been painting house street numbers on sidewalks and curbs in front of residences to cease this activity. This action was taken after residents near Cotton st. and Waverley ave. had complained that house numbers were so painted without authority having been given by the property owners, and then the men who had painted the numbers, demanded payment for their unsolicited work. According to information received from the Street Department, a man named Bywater, a non-resident of Newton, was given permission by Street Commissioner Mahoney to paint the house numbers provided his employees first received the consent of abutting property owners to stencil the numbers in front of houses. The number painters did not obey conditions. On the promise that they would follow instructions, Mr. Mahoney told Bywater he could continue the activity. Some persons object to having numbers conspicuously painted in front of their homes. Several years ago a group of outsiders came to Newton and engaged in a similar activity. At that time also, complaints were made.

Appeal For Fund To Aid Widows of Officers Bell and Murphy

The people of Newton, sensing their great helplessness during the cheerless days preceding the tragic deaths of Police Officers Henry G. Bell and Lawrence E. Murphy, have responded as with a single thought to make certain of one thing—the financial independence of those suddenly bereft of support.

Sunday afternoon, a group of representative citizens met at Police Headquarters, West Newton, and quietly, yet effectively organized the Bell-Murphy Relief Committee.

Word of the action taken was quickly known throughout the city and those having a part were soon being asked on all sides to whom should funds be sent and how should checks be made payable.

Boxes were rapidly procured, properly designated for the receipt of funds, and then, as soon, placed in the various bank offices and other places of business throughout the city.

The committee, formed almost of its own momentum, is being enlarged daily by offers of assistance from many people, not content to contribute money alone, but insistent upon giving of their personal time and effort to such a worthwhile cause.

Plans are being formed to bring the need for funds to the attention of all Newton residents and from this point forward there will be no relaxation on the part of those who have come forward voluntarily to assume active participation in the drive.

Checks are already being received by the Treasurer of the fund, William M. Cahill, and they should be sent to him at 93 Union st., Newton Centre, made payable to the Bell-Murphy Relief Fund.

Allen Is Ward 2 Candidate, Drake To Run in Wd. 7

Herbert Allen of 278 Cabot st., Newtonville will be a candidate for Ward Alderman in Ward 2 at the coming city election. He was born in Worcester, graduated from the Fitchburg schools and from Mass. State College in 1930 and then entered newspaper work. For the past 7 years he has been Newton district representative of a Boston paper and has attended all meetings of the Board of Aldermen during that period. He believes the knowledge he has acquired during that time will enable him to give intelligent service to citizens of Ward 2. Mr. Allen is married and has two children.

Paul H. Drake of Pembroke st. has announced that he will be a candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 7 at the coming city election. He will oppose Alderman George Rawson who will be a candidate for re-election.

High Spire For Science Church

Tentative plans have been submitted to the Newton Public Buildings Department for the proposed steeple and spire which will be erected on the Christian Science Church at Walnut st., Newtonville. The structure will rise to a height of 145 feet above the ground, and atop it will be a lightning rod and weathervane 11 feet higher. It will be of Colonial type architecture, to conform to the church building and will be constructed of steel and copper.

Legion Guards Win First Prize At National Convention in N. Y.

The drill team of Newton Post 48, American Legion, became national champions at the Polo Grounds in New York City on Monday afternoon in competition with the best drilled legion squads from various parts of the United States. The Newton Legion Guards, directed by Capt. J. Joseph Ward reached a goal they hardly dared hope for when they were organized three years ago by Past Commander Francis Barry and Bart Morrisroe. Captain George Hennrikus was in command of the Guards for the first year, and Captain Ward has commanded and instructed them the past two years. He was a captain in the 29th Legion at Springfield; Wollaston captured first prize. This year at the State convention of the Legion at New Bedford on August 21st, the Newton Legion Guards were again given second prize with Wollaston receiving first prize. Spectators believed that there was poor judging, and that the Newton team was entitled to first prize.

At New York on Monday the Newton Legionnaires proved their superiority by outscoring their rivals from Wollaston. Newton received a rating of 99 and Wollaston 85.5. The men from Quincy were so sure of winning first prize that they had the Fire Department, and a number of city officials and members of Newton Post. The welcoming committee's chairman was John B. Foley of Newton Post. A motorcade escorted by Boston motorcycle police proceeded through Boston and Brighton to the Newton line, where a Newton police motorcycle escort conveyed the parade through Newton Corner to Newtonville sq. where the procession disbanded. The members of the championship team include—J. Joseph Ward, captain; George Hennrikus, 1st Lieutenant; John Pendergast, 2nd Lieutenant; Carl P. Peterson, first sergeant and adjutant Bart J. Morrisroe, business

Division during the World War and is a teacher in the Newton Trade School. By persistent practice and skilful instruction under Captain Ward, the team has made rapid progress the past two years. In 1936 it won 1st prize at the competition under the auspices of Wollaston Post, A. L. on Defence Night, and 1st prize at the Boston Arena in the contest sponsored by the Military Order of the World War. The team also won second prize at the State Convention of the American brought with them a banner to carry in the parade on Tuesday, which acclaimed them as national champions. The Wollaston men, however, were good sports and offered the victory banner to the Newton team. Captain Ward and his comrades on the team, naturally were elated over their accomplishment, but conducted themselves with a modesty that elicited favorable comment.

The team arrive in Boston on the Eastern steamship line this morning at 8 o'clock. They were met at the wharf by a committee which included Mayor Childs, Chief Hughes of the police department and Chief Randlett of manager; Frank P. Frazier, Ernest Carver, Henry Chandonait, Frank Gaw, Joseph McHugh, William Maloney, George Parsons, Fred Perkins, G. F. Seifert, Walter Towle, Joseph Vachon, Wayne Walcott, Edward White, Henry Dath, Frank Grace, Oswald McCourt, Charles P. Manning, Howard Smith, Cleveland L. Thibault, John Woodward and John McDonald. On Saturday night at 8 o'clock a reception will be tendered the Legion Guards in the auditorium at Newton High School. The team will give an exhibition of the efficiency which gained for it the national championship.

Witness In Police Murder Released

Mrs. Alice G. Noone of Allston, who had been held as a material witness in the murder case of Patrolmen Bell and Murphy by Edward Simpson, was released on personal recognizance in the Waltham court on Tuesday. This action was taken on recommendation of Lieut. Burke of the Watertown police. The two policemen were shot in Watertown, and the police of that town are prosecuting the case. The Noone woman, who allegedly had been friendly with Simpson, had been held in $25,000 bonds, with double surety demanded.

MAKE YOUR CONTRIBUTION NOW

Newton citizens should need little urging to respond generously to the appeal for contributions to the fund to benefit the widows of the two police officers who were killed by a gunman's bullets a few weeks ago. Police officers are provided to protect the safety of the public. The dangers they face are manifold. They lost their lives while protecting you. Make that contribution now.

ANOTHER NATIONAL HONOR FOR NEWTON

Newton gained national recognition in still another way this week when the drill team of the Newton Post, of the American Legion won first place in the drill team contest at the Legion convention in New York. To those who are not familiar with the prerequisites of an outstanding drill team the honors may seem of little significance. But to those who know the hours upon hours of practice which are necessary to achieve the perfection of unison that must be obtained to pass the rigid judging of army officers is a noteworthy distinction. Much credit is due Captain Joseph Ward for the spirit he instilled into the team.

For some time the Legion Guards of Newton have gradually been approaching the goal which they set for themselves some time ago. In almost every competition they have entered they have finished nearer the top. In this latest effort they topped the Wollaston team which for the past few years has been their nemesis. To the members of the Newton Legion Guards the congratulations of the citizens are extended and with them the hope that they will retain their laurels for some time to come.

HOW EXPENSIVE IS SAFETY?

Just how far a municipality should go in the matter of spending money for the safety of those who use its highways is very much a debatable question. Newspapers reported this week that the sodium lights which have been in operation on the Worcester turnpike in Newton Centre have been discontinued after a three-year trial. Whether or not the trial was conclusive or whether or not it was adequate we are not certain. We do know that as a driver we were impressed with their desirability. The relief from the glare of incandescent lights and the clear visibility of the stretch of highway lighted by the sodium lights was most noticeable.

However the discontinuance of the lights is said to have been because of their expense as compared to other lighting. Here is where the question arises as to how far we should go in spending money for safety. By our standards of living we are spending considerably more for electric lights in our home than our ancestors did for kerosene lights. And many are spending more today for indirect and other improved forms of lighting than the average home owner. They provide greater comfort, less strain on the eyes, and more light. If sodium lighting is more expensive than incandescent lighting is the additional expense not justified if accidents are thereby eliminated?

THE THIRD SEASON OF THE FORUM

Within another few weeks the third season of the Newton Community Forum will open. Opening with the noted commentator who climaxed the season last year, this local civic association should attract the interest of many thinking people. It is no sinecure to obtain a varied group of speakers such as will appear on the high school auditorium platform this coming fall and winter. The steering committee of the Forum has done its part. It is now up to the citizens of Newton to support this organization by taking an active interest in the meetings. We look forward to even larger audiences than those of the past two seasons.

DAYLIGHT SAVING ENDS

With two o'clock Sunday morning comes the end of the artificial time under which we have been living since last spring. Daylight saving has been a great boon to many who have little opportunity to enjoy daylight hours away from their occupation. The change back to standard time, however, brings with it the realization that fall is here and winter cannot be far behind. Only a day or two more remains of after-dinner daylight and tomorrow evening we should not forget to set our timepieces back an hour and regain the hour of sleep that was lost in April.

THE FOOTBALL SEASON IS ON

Tomorrow marks the official opening of the football season. Although many persons regard the game as highly commercialized and others regard it as extremely dangerous for the participation of the youth of the land, it is a grand and glorious sport. Properly conducted and regulated it is not only a builder of character for those who participate in it but it provides entertaining hours despite the occasional inclemency of the weather. As the local high school eleven opens its 1937 season we wish them success.

ZONTA CLUB

The first meeting of Newton Zonta was held Monday evening at Miss Caroline Freeman's on Mt. Vernon st., West Newton, sixteen members being present. It was voted to send a delegate to the Newton Council of the Community Chest, Miss Doris Lovell and Miss Marion Fuller. Regret was expressed at the removal from Newton of Miss Mabel Bragg, one of the honorary members. New committee assignments for the year were made and the club voted to join with Cambridge Zonta in arranging an appropriate celebration of Zonta Day, Nov. 8th. The Regional Convention will be held in Milford, Conn., on October 21st, 22nd and 23rd. Miss Hilga Nelson gave an interesting account of her attendance at the Nurses' Conference, held in July in London, followed by a continental trip of several weeks. Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee.

Letters To The Editor

OLD TIME BASEBALL

Sept. 20, 1937.

My dear Mr. Powers:

I was interested in one of your articles in the issue of the GRAPHIC September 17 where you referred to baseball in Newton years ago, but it would appear to me that you did not tell even one-half the story.

When I was a grown-up boy we had the championship team in Newton, outside of the Boston Red Stockings of course. We had a league comprising the Holyokes, the Websters, the Hyde Parks, the Newtons, the Andersons of Lynn and the Crescents of Lynn. The Newtons won the championship. At that time also the famous Beacons were organized, all Harvard graduates. We beat them on the Boston baseball grounds at the south end, seven to four.

Most of our players, in fact all except Ed Bowen and the writer, went into professional baseball. Fox, our pitcher, went to Baltimore, the two Hacketts to Kansas City, John Clarkson, at one time our pitcher, to the Chicago, and Daniels to Philadelphia. The writer had an offer of $30 a week for three games. When I put the proposition up to my mother she just laughed at me, she did not even oppose it. There is an expression now that was not used at that time—which was in about 1880—that fits the situation: "She laughed it off."

About a year ago when talking with George Wright, who was one of the famous Boston Red Stockings, he told me that when he played baseball $1500 per year was a large salary; so, when the New England Senior Golfers' Association gave the pictures of seventeen of the leading members to the Woodland Golf Club under the picture of George Wright I had written his comment on baseball salaries.

At the time the Newtons won the championship we did not have any Newton Centre playground. We did our playing on what was called Allen's field, Elm st., West Newton, and which is now a playground and was presented by some of the citizens to the city for the use of the boys.

Very truly yours,
GEO. J. MARTIN.

WITHIN THE LAW

September 16th.

Dear Sir:

One of my sons and I attended the funeral service this morning for Officer Murphy.

It was our tribute as a family, to a brave man who lost his life while trying to make Newton a safe place for its citizens of Newton.

I would like at this time to pay tribute also to the police force of Newton who in all the twenty-five years of my residence here have always been most courteous and helpful.

As mothers of sons living in Newton let us make every effort to see that our children live as gloriously and happily as possible but—within the law.

Sincerely yours,
PATTY PHILIPS CALKINS.

Sunbeam Chats

"The District Nurse told mother I am gaining just what I ought. I think she said five ounces a week or 'sumpin'." I found out what that meant the other day when mother said I was getting too heavy to carry. I wish she didn't have to carry me. I wish I could walk. I might learn a lot about things. Wonder what would happen if I pulled that table cloth? See you next week."

Kiwanis Club

Jim Gallagher, Clerk of the Newton District Court, introduced the guest speaker, the Hon. Herbert C. Parsons, at the weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club held on Tuesday at the Charles River Country Club.

Mr. Parsons was former Commissioner of Probation in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and is at present President of the Massachusetts Civil Council, Inc. embracing a great humane work among the underprivileged and delinquent children.

The subject of Mr. Parsons' talk was the abolition of the death penalty in this state. He showed how, in the changing order of things, Vermont when it was admitted into the Union had on its law books well over twenty laws, any one of which if broken by a citizen called for the death penalty. At the present time in the State of Massachusetts, murder in the first degree is the only crime punishable by death.

Murder arouses in the minds and hearts of men an emotion of revenge and the desire to annihilate the person who has committed the crime. This is a natural reaction but it often leads to a hysterical and wrongful administration of justice, whereas the proper handling of such cases demands level headedness, sound thinking and an absolute disregard of sentiment.

It has been proven in many states that the death penalty is not a deterrent of the violent crime of murder but that it is one of the leading factors in the delay of justice.

It is difficult to get a jury to bring in a verdict in a first degree murder case based upon law, facts and evidence instead of on sentiment. If a man's life was not involved, the jury would consider the merits of the case and find accordingly. After conviction in a murder case the administration of justice is again thwarted by last-minute maneuvers, uncovering of new evidence, etc. Again as happened in Lynn a few years back, two men found themselves surrounded by a mass of evidence which had them all but on the way to the chair, but for the last-minute admission of guilt by three other men. Such a miscarriage of justice would have seriously marred the record of our State.

With the penalty of life imprisonment for murder, the ends of justice are speeded up through direct action, clear thinking and a lessening of sympathy for the convicted.

It is true that a sentence of life imprisonment carries with it the promise of parole after serving part of the sentence, and in connection with parole, it is well to consider that, rarely, if ever, has a parolee been placed again in the toils of the law for the commission of a serious crime. Parole, properly handled, places a man back in a community under supervision and guidance, stressing in his mind the need of rehabilitation and guarding against recurrence of criminal tendencies.

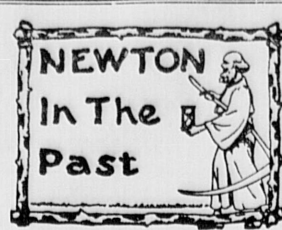

Past President Frank East of the Roslindale-West Roxbury Club announced the formation of new Kiwanis Clubs in Dorchester, Norwood and Hyde Park. President Bill White of the Newton Club told the members of the plans being made by the New England Division to bring the International Convention to Boston in the year 1939.

The new Board of Directors for the Guild include: Mrs. Harold Kellar, President; Mrs. Charles Wilbur, Secretary; Mrs. James P. Regan, Treasurer; Hon. Edwin O. Childs, Hon. In addition, the Guild has contacts with the Red Cross Milk Fund of the Newton Schools, to the J. W. Wilbur Health Home in Natick, to several of the Newton churches and to the Gov. John A. Andrew Home in Newtonville. The children who have been for five years members of the Singing Guild have an unusual comprehension and acquaintance with Gilbert and Sullivan music and traditions, which will be a lifelong benefit.

NEWTON SMITH COLLEGE CLUB
The Newton Smith College Club held its first fall meeting September 21st at the home of Mrs. Morton C. Tuttle of Newton Centre. As honor guests at this meeting the club entertained undergraduates at Smith, entering freshmen and their mothers. Before the meeting the executive committee of the club gave a luncheon at Brae Burn Country Club for members of last year's senior class, who will be given a year's membership on the club this year.

Mrs. Amos Wilder of Newton Centre presided at the short business meeting in the absence of Mrs. John N. Eaton, the club's president. Following this Miss Jane Hunting of Newtonville talked of her interesting experiences in France last winter. Later a colored moving picture of campus life at Smith was shown. Tea was served Mrs. Lawrence Allen of Waban and Mrs. D. Dudley Bach of West Newton pouring.

Those who neglected to cover their plants on Wednesday evening found the mark of Jack Frost upon them the next morning.

Notwithstanding the adverse vote in the Council the firemen are likely to have a parade on October 9. As the City will furnish no money, the Councilmen who were willing to contribute toward the parade are to have the opportunity. We expect to say next week that the amount is secured. Arrangements for the parade only await the money to assure its success. Now, let us see who is the best friend of the firemen.

Last year there were 2763 children in Newton between the ages of 5 and 15. This year the total is 2850, an increase of 87.

Crechore's paper mill at Newton Lower Falls has been shut down for two weeks to put in a new iron bleacher. Business at the Dudley Mill continues dull. Only about one-third of the employees are working.

Two dogs owned by Orrin Whipple of Church st. were poisoned on Wednesday night.

Miss Helen Whiton, the former very excellent teacher in charge of the Union School, has opened a new school with one scholar. See the marriage notices.

Wednesday night the flagman at the Centre st. railroad crossing thought to test the police, so he made a noise as if burglars were breaking into the depot. Patrolman Henthorn was promptly on hand, and the make-believe burglar got a taste of the officer's cane.

Newton Centre feels quite an interest in the Wellesley Female College, having sent several representatives to grace its opening.

Rev. Mr. Lowry of North Village and his family were taken seriously ill Sunday afternoon after eating oysters. It is supposed the oysters were poisonous. Nathaniel Davidson, who took supper with them was also sick. Under the care of Dr. Smith, all are recovering.

Runaway horses are plentiful in North Village (Nonantum); no three last Wednesday. Fortunately no one was hurt.

A quadrille band has been started in North Village by a few enterprising young men. They have a room in Turner's Block. Thomas Tune is conductor.

As Mrs. Burns, an elderly lady living in North Village, was passing through the entry of her house on Monday night, the wind blew a lamp she was carrying and it exploded. Her clothing was set on fire and she was so terribly burned that she died in agony on Tuesday afternoon.

Last Friday Mrs. Patrick Wallace of North Village, while taking a boiler filled with clothes off the stove in her kitchen, had both her feet badly scalded.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic Sept. 24, 1887

Mr. Tower, the janitor at the Newton Free Library is back from his vacation at Cohasset, much to the satisfaction of the librarians.

Hubbard & Proctor, the druggists, have their store on Centre st. lighted with incandescent electric lamps, leading off in a movement which bids to become popular.

It is expected that 600 or 700 delegates will be present at the Baptist conference in Newton on September 28. Arrangements have been made to entertain the guests in Armory Hall where tables will be set, and the guests served in two companies.

Next Monday evening before the Board of Aldermen comes the public hearing on the Street Railroad charter. A year ago objections were based mainly on the supposition that a horse railroad was contemplated, but, owing to recent developments of electric motors it is understood that electricity will be the motive power. The objectors now will be those who do not want any kind of a street railway. The Malden railroad has recently been constructed with the same kind of a rail that will be used in the Newton railway. A large number of citizens have inspected it and driven across the rails to see how much of an obstruction a railroad here would prove. Carriage wheels do not catch on the rails, except at curves, which are about as destructive to carriage wheels as anything invented can be.

Of course any kind of street railway on the public streets is a nuisance to people who drive on the roads, but the Highway Committee has been anxious to do everything in their power to make the railroad proposed here, no more of a nuisance than actually is necessary. The rails and paving will be of the best kind, and the streets on which the railway will run, comprise only a small portion of the streets in this city. With the rapid growth of Newton a street railway has become almost a necessity to that portion of the people who have not conveyances of their own.

Powers' Paragraphs

Several years ago when an enterprising outsider came into Newton and employed men to stencil street numbers in front of residences, on sidewalks and curbs, without permission from the owners or occupants, and then demands were made for payment of this unauthorized work from householders, complaints naturally resulted. The past week this activity was again started in this city, and householders asked to pay for the stencilling of numbers in front of their homes. Something that was not asked for, and in some cases not wanted. Complaints again followed. No outsider should be given permission to engage in any such scheme in this city. We doubt if any resident of the city would have the nerve to try to make money this way.

Senator Walsh and other members of the upper branch of Congress are making a brave show in attacking their recent colleague, Justice Black of the Supreme Court and demanding that he resign or be ousted from our highest tribunal because of his Klan affiliations. In our opinion, Mr. Walsh is indulging in grand stand play. He is very well versed in politics and in Washington affairs. He should know, and undoubtedly does know, that Black will not resign, and that it is more than probable that President Roosevelt will ask for Black's resignation. As the Alabamian is on his way to Washington, the President is moving West. It is quite unlikely that the Senate will make any effort to impeach Black. If Mr. Walsh and his colleagues who are now castigating Black were sincere, why did they vote to confirm his appointment despite common reports that he was a member of the Ku Kluxers? And why was Senator Walsh "unavoidably absent" when the vote was taken?

There is a law prohibiting the sale of air-rifles to boys (or girls) under 15 years of age. Parents or guardians are also prohibited from allowing such minors to have air-rifles in their possession. If the police enforced this law, we would not read of persons having been wounded by bullets from air-rifles.

Patriotic observances are excellent—if they are sincere. Pageants can be quite artistic and entertaining, if intelligently conceived, and efficiently conducted. But, when conditions are in the state they have been for the past 8 years, necessitating the expenditure of nearly a half million dollars annually for relief here in Newton, we don't approve the expenditure of even $1500 for a belated observance of the sesqui-centennial of the Constitution to defray the expenses of pageantry or ceremonies.

At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen an appropriation of $70,000 was made for the construction of a street from Parker st., Newton Centre, to the new school at Oak Hill. The street was referred to as "Thoroughfare Road." We thought this a peculiar name, but, when we heard the dimensions of this new street given, we were not surprised, although we cannot conceive of it carrying so much traffic as to warrant such a title. The street will be 1860 feet long and 80 feet wide, with a roadway 36 feet wide, two grass strips 17 feet wide plital that in less than 18 months from one time this city has 122 patients would be treated, that person would have been regarded as visionary. The great majority of patients have been discharged restored to health. Especially is this the case with some of the accident and typhoid cases. Newton has reason to be proud of its hospital, and should generously sustain it.

Discuss Plans For Pageant

A meeting of the Newton committee appointed by Mayor Childs to arrange for the observance of the sesqui-centennial of the Constitution was held on Monday at the Exchange Club in Boston. Leverett Saltonstall chairman of the committee presided. Others present were Joseph W. Bartlett, C. H. Capron, James P. Gallagher, David Greer, Ernst Hermann, and Henry B. Patrick. It was voted to have a pageant produced in the auditorium at Newton High School on three nights, probably early in November. One performance will be for school children; the other two for the public. Mayor Childs will speak one evening, and a judge on each of the other evenings. At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen, it was voted to appropriate a sum of $1500 to defray the cost of the pageant. This recommendation came from the Mayor. It was then announced that the observance would be held on October 28, 29 and 30. The official observance of the sesqui-centennial was on Friday, September 17. The pageant will be produced under the direction of Ernst Hermann, Superintendent of Playgrounds and C. Hassler Capron.

each — and two sidewalks 5 feet wide each. It should be named Oak Hill Prado or Parkway.

The reason for the building of this street at big expense to the taxpayers of Newton is to provide an approach to the new school for children who live in the neighborhood along Parker st. Of the $70,000, which this short boulevard will cost, only about $6000 will be assessed on abutters. The balance will be paid by the city. It does not seem common sense on the Mayor or Aldermen's part to delay for months the building of even an ordinary street, 40 feet wide from Parker st. to the new school, and then splurging on a costly avenue. For several months there has been a demand on the part of some Oak Hill residents for the construction of a street over the location which "Thoroughfare Road" will follow. In the interest of economy, the Mayor stated that a drain, which was to have been built across the meadow land at this location, could be used as a temporary walk for the school children.

Then, the other extreme is adopted. When one considers that the ordinary school in Newton costs $9 a running foot to construct, one can estimate the difference in cost to the taxpayers between what a street 40 feet wide would have cost and the $70,000 the 80 foot street will cost. And it does not seem logical to have grass strips 7 feet wide and sidewalks only 5 feet wide when the alleged emergency which required this street is to provide a way over which children can walk. They will be extraordinary children if they confine themselves to the narrow sidewalks and keep off the broad strips of grass.

Oak Hill is the newest residential section of this city. It bids fair to be a quite attractive one because of land contributions made for civic purposes by a few property owners and large appropriations made by the city during the past couple of years. These appropriations included $253,583.87 for the drain and sewer from Upper Falls to Oak Hill, $157,128.45 for the new school; $6000 for school furniture (including grants of about 40 per cent from the PWA); $27,912.68 for the extension of Meadowbrook rd.; $6365.45 for land damaged on property taken for school and parking purposes; and now $70,000 for Thoroughfare rd.

We don't object to Oak Hill getting a reasonable share of money appropriated by the city. We co-operated in urging the selection of the large area which was selected as the site of the school, playground and parking district, when another site for the school was being favored a couple of years ago. But, we are aware that Oak Hill, with a comparatively small number of school children was given preference over West Newton, Nonantum and Newton in the building of a new school, although the School Committee had reported that there was more urgent need for schools to replace the old Franklin, Elliot, and Lincoln Schools. We recall that the Mayor in his inaugural address on January 1, 1935 stated that the obsolete schools we just mentioned should be replaced without further delay. Where are many streets in the city which need resurfacing? The difference between the cost of a 40 foot street and an 80 foot avenue at "Thoroughfare rd." could well be used to pay for the resurfacing of some street or streets.

Boys on Bicycle Collide With Car

Another proof of the traffic hazard caused by two boys riding on one bicycle was evidenced on Monday afternoon when Lawrence McNeil 15, of 49 Beleney st., Brighton; and Paul Stores, 10, of 19 Burton st., Brighton received cuts and bruises. Sarah Bates of West Bridgewater had stopped her automobile on Waverley ave. before entering Washington st. when the bicycle on which the two boys were riding ran into it.

Mural Panels At Dental Clinic by School Children

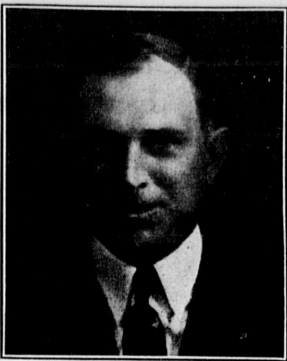

Recent visitors to the Children's Dental Clinic in the Newton City Hall have shown great interest in the new wall decorations which have appeared during the summer. They are the work of talented children of grades 7, 8 and 9 of the Levi F. Warren Junior High School, under the supervision of Miss Helen Cabot Miles, the art instructor. There are eight mural panels, each portraying a group of characters from children's fiction. The Old Woman and the Shoe (with all the children) appear, along with Jack, climbing the beanstalk, and the Butcher, the Baker and the Candlestick-maker. Then there is the Elephant's Child (Kipling), and nearby, Don Quixote, with Hansel and Gretel across the room. Mickey Mouse and the Three Little Pigs have not been forgotten; and in corners that would otherwise be empty, may be found purely imaginative creatures from the insect or reptile realms. Observers have wondered if the figures and animals were traced. They were not. In most cases, they are drawn entirely from imagination, occasionally copied, however, from an accepted version of a character, such as Alice in Wonderland.

The panels represent the year's work of the "Painter's Guild," which met during the club period, about 40 minutes a week, and is sponsored by Miss Miles.

Members of the Guild were: Joyce Holman, Edith Alexander, Florence Timble, Eleanor Lee, Leon Sanderson (grade 9); Merrillyn Delano, William Judge, Gordon McKinley, Maurice Helms, Marilyn Costello, Nancy Fitzgerald, Jane Fiske (grade 8); Jack Zahn, Sara Lee Edson, William Mulhern, Patricia Wilson and Crosby Mandell (grade 7).

Damage Claims Against City

Among the claims recently presented against the City of Newton is one from Stefano Pittorino, 37 Cypress st., Newton Centre. He states that on March 17 of this year an employee of the Water Department installed a new meter at his house and neglected to shut off the water from the upper apartment. As a result, Mr. Pittorino claims, the boiler in that apartment was so damaged that it had to be replaced. Thomas Neary of Dorchester, a letter carrier at the Newton post-office asks $16.60 for a new pair of trousers and a blouse to replace clothing ruined when he slipped and fell on Bellevue st., after oil had been applied to the street surface.

Mrs. Edna Davidson of Beethoven ave., Waban, asks $58.06 to pay for repairs on an automobile which was damaged when it collided with a police car at Centre and Walnut sts., Newton Highlands, on August 26. The police car, hastening to a house where a prowler had been reported, went through a red light at the traffic signal.

Rotary Club

Mr. Glenn Arnold, Vice-President of the Petroleum Heat and Power Company, with offices in Boston, gave a brief resume of the use of oil in present-day industrial and domestic situations at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club at Brae Burn on Monday. Mr. Arnold pointed out that it was in 1905 that oil burners were first introduced and in that year 400 units were installed, which called for the consumption of 1,000,000 barrels of crude fuel oil. The rapid rise of this fuel field may be seen in the figures which he gives as estimates for 1937.

Seventy-three thousand commercial and industrial units, 1,165,000 domestic units, a total consumption of 277,000,000 barrels of crude fuel oil. Mr. Arnold said that there will be even greater activity in this field in the future. There is great geological activity at the present time in opening up new oil fields in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, California, and Illinois. In 1937 it is estimated that there will be 33,000 new wells opened which will provide about a one-sixth increase in barrels of oil produced this year. Oil heat for domestic consumption is competing very strongly with natural gas heating and coal heating, and Mr. Arnold showed how each of these types must be judged on the convenience, cleanliness, and comfort produced. As a final point, the speaker mentioned a very rapid increase in the number of Diesel engine units being used in industrial and transportation fields, and predicted an enormous increase in the use of this type of power in the near future.

ROWE—ANDRESS

Miss Charlotte Andress, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Mace Andress of Newtonville, became the bride of Henry Payne Rowe, son of Mr. Carl Frederick Rowe, and the late Mrs. Rowe, of Duluth, Minnesota, on Saturday afternoon, September 11th. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Randolph S. Merrill at "Willowmere," the summer home of the bride's parents in Henniker, N. H. The decorations were of evergreens, garden flowers and lighted candles.

The bride wore a gown of white tulle designed on old fashioned lines with small puffed sleeves and a full skirt and trimmed with old Carrick McCross lace. From her lace cap fell a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried an old fashioned shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her sister, Miss Judith Andress, was maid-of-honor. Her gown of heliotrope organza was trimmed with orchid grosgrain ribbon. She carried a mixed bouquet of asters. Miss Ruth Andress, a sister of the bride, and Miss Eleanor L. Vanderhoof of Newtonville were bridesmaids. They wore gowns of orchid color organza and carried a sheath of rose and lavender gladioli.

The bride's mother wore a gown of royal purple chiffon with a corsage of pink roses and heliotrope.

Frederick L. Rowe of Chicago, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Philip M. Andress, brother of the bride, Warren S. Hallamore of Boston and Glenn Snyder of Albany, N. Y.

Miss Virginia Kenway of West Newton played the wedding march on an old fashioned organ.

The reception followed immediately after the ceremony. After a wedding trip to Quebec, Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Rowe will be at home November 1st at 335 East Lancaster rd., Wynnewood, Penn.

Newton H. S.

Begins 78th Year

Newton High School began its seventy-eighth year on Monday, September 13. The enrollment on Friday, September 17, totaled 2554. Compared to the total for the first school Friday of last year, which was 2477, this year's pupil enrollment shows an increase of seventy-nine.

Home room managers have been appointed for all the rooms, and they have had their first meeting. Chosen on a basis of organizing ability and business skill the managers are holders of school office. They begin their work this week with the sale of the S. A. T. the Student Activities Ticket. This single ticket for various pupil events eliminates the need of many ticket-selling campaigns and decreases the cost to the high school pupils who attend school events. Covering athletics, drama, publications, class dues, music and afternoon dances, this book ticket offers a total value of ten dollars for three dollars fifty cents. Pupils may buy the tickets on the budget plan with several months in which to make the installment payments. Miss Hazel White, the High School Bursar, is in charge of the tickets and the money collected by the managers. Mr. Carl Swan is faculty adviser for the ticket selling campaign.

There will be a General Teachers' Meeting for all teachers in the public schools of Newton on Wednesday afternoon, in the auditorium of the F. A. Day Junior High School. Superintendent of Schools Julius E. Warren will preside.

Schools closed on Friday, September 17, at twelve o'clock by the proclamation of the Governor of the Commonwealth and by the direction of Mr. Warren, Superintendent of Schools, in observance of the 150th anniversary of the adoption of our Constitution. All home rooms in Newton High School had appropriate commemorative exercises at the beginning of the school day. Mr. Horace Kidger, Head of the social studies department, and a committee consisting of Miss Roberta Miller, Miss Louise Richardson, and Miss Ruth Twiss, arranged a program that was given by the pupils in the various rooms.

Each summer finds the teachers in the high school engaged in varied interests. Of these teaching, advanced study, and travel are the most popular. Principal Paul E. Ellicker was on the faculty of the Boston University Summer School, and spent several weeks in Washington, D. C., at the close of the summer. He was there as a Consultant on Secondary Education with the Advisory Committee on Education in the United States. Other high school teachers on the same staff were Miss Mildred Hood and Mr. Sterling Williams. Mr. Charles H. Mergendahl taught at Harvard University Summer School, and Mr. Horace E. Kidger was on the faculty of Connecticut State College.

Among those studying at Harvard University were Mr. Thomas G. Walters, Miss Eleanor Richmond, and Miss Katherine Curtis attended lectures at the University of Colorado. Miss Irene Haworth inspected all the places mentioned in Elizabeth Enler's popular book, "On Gilbert Head." Miss Gladys Bigelow and Miss Gertrude Robinson were at their summer place in Maine, the state where Miss Edith Rideout spent her holidays.

Mrs. Kate Cornell operated a club in the Adirondacks. Miss Ethel Ham and Miss Jessie Southard made a historical jaunt through New York State and Vermont, stopping at places well-known in the literary history of America. Mr. Francis Foster left the earth for the first time in an airplane, and Mr. Carl Swan had the distinction of being the sole man on the faculty to be employed as the only male member of the staff in a girls' camp. Mr. Samuel Thuermer was at his summer cottage at Brewster, Mass. Mrs. Grace Kintz and Miss Roberta Miller were other teachers summering on the Cape.

Assistant Principal Raymond A. Green and Mrs. Green charted, or so it has been said, a new course around the North Cape. Another teacher enjoying the North Cape Cruise was Miss Margarita Ellis, who attended the Art Exposition in Paris. Miss Gertrude Myles spent her summer in France. Mr. Carl Birmingham made a grand tour of the Continent, attending sessions in the new League of Nations Building, visited with friends that he had not seen since World War days, and studied Consumer Co-operatives in Switzerland and France. Miss Adele Waldmeyer traveled in Canada, as did Mr. Lamoine Boyle. Miss Helen Lee spent the summer with relatives in New Mexico. Miss Mary Owens made a grand tour of the West, visiting California, Yellowstone, and many other places. Miss Cora E. Riley passed the summer in the Canyon Country, and Miss Alma Thomas and Miss Ruth Twiss motored to the coast, returning via the Canadian Rockies. Mr. B. Floyd Rinker went on a fishing trip in the Pacific Northwest and visited in California and New Orleans.

Orange Book
There has been a good sale of Orange Books, particularly among the incoming pupils. Edited by Henry Kendall and managed by John Arend and assistant James Brickett, this year's edition is one of the finest on record. Norman Ross was art editor.

and staff members included Harry Barrow, George Black, Virginia Brown, Irene Butchart, Sylvia Eaton, Marjorie Evans, Rita Matthews, Sylvia Pierce, Lorraine Stickney, Hugh Van Roosen, and Grace Ver Planck. Faculty Adviser for this annual project is Miss Caroline M. Doonan. She was assisted by Miss Katherine Curtis.

Mr. Charles W. Peterson has announced that cheer leaders will be chosen from the following group of candidates: Richard Filbin, Lawrence Fine, Donald Fulton, Harold Fisher, Robert Gallagher, Edward Gough, Richard Grimm, Edward McIsaac, Robert Ross, Fred MacMullan, Beal Marks, Donald Smith, Arthur Levine, Edward Gould, Benet deSaulniers, Kenneth Urquhart, Donald MacKinnon and Robert Davis.

Day Jr. High School

As another school year opens, the students and faculty of the Day Junior High School welcome five new teachers who have joined the staff. Miss Dolan, who attended Radcliffe College and Boston University, is to teach general business and typing, and to assist in the office. Miss Hart, a graduate of Lowell Teachers' College, who was a substitute teacher in Arlington last year, will teach music and social studies, and will be in charge of the orchestra. Miss Russo comes from the Framingham Teachers' College to assist in the foods and clothing department. F. A. Day will share her services with the Weeks Junior High School. Mrs. Sandwall, formerly a member of the F. A. Day staff, returns to teach cooking and sewing.

During the summer holidays, several of the teachers turned to travel for relaxation and further education. Miss Lougee went on an extended trailer trip to the West Coast. Miss Manning also traveled in the western part of the United States, coming home by way of the Panama Canal. Miss Paul and Miss Johnson spent part of the summer in Bermuda and Miss Wright vacationed in the South. Mr. E. Tanner went on an expedition by automobile to California and Mexico with a group of men affiliated with McGill University.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

The Bigelow Junior High School has started the fall term with an enrollment of 400 pupils. New members on the faculty are Miss Ida Scheib, teacher of English, and Miss Helen Hesslein, office secretary.

The following home rooms have elected officers for the current month: 118, president, Margery MacNeil; vice-president, Ruth Gilmore; secretary, Anne Backman; treasurer, Victoria Thomas; 122, president, Everett Olds; vice-president, Frederick Hall; secretary, Robert Walker; treasurer, Rockwood Smyth; 125, president, Dorothy Dow; vice-president, Charles French; secretary, Beryl Perry; treasurer, Vincent Kirby; 107, president, Karolina Rubin; vice-president, Joanne Reiman; secretary, Edward Merrill; treasurer, Arthur Nash; 116, president, Ray Eusden; vice-president, Gerald Doherty; secretary, William McMurray; treasurer, Robert Sander; 213, president, Betty Ryan; vice-president, Leo Baldwin; secretary, Robert Holmes; treasurer, Phyllis Knights; 217, president, Francis Donalds; vice-president, Bruce Gower; secretary, Louis Cook.

At the assembly on Friday morning August Avantaggio introduced Rebecca Connolly who gave a short history of the Bigelow Junior High School. Two piano solos were played by Paul Black. Mr. Haydn S. Pearson, principal of the school, then gave a talk. School closed at noon in observance of Constitution Day.

The Girls' Sports Club held its first meeting Tuesday, Sept. 14. Officers elected were as follows: president, Eleanor Tashjian; vice-president, Ann Nardone; secretary, Claire Reid; treasurer, Eleanor McNamara; sports reporter, Constance Fanning. The ninth grade played the eighth grade in the first soccer game of the season last Monday afternoon. The points were made by Ann Nardone and Helen Farrar.

J. S. Gove Opens Accountant's Office Here

Mr. James S. Gove, a resident of Newton Highlands, has recently opened his office for the practice of public accounting at 89 Broad st., Boston, with a branch office for the convenience of Newton clients and those who do not find it convenient to meet him in Boston.

JAMES S. GOVE

Readers of the GRAPHIC will be interested to know about Mr. Gove's Newton office, which has been opened for them. This office is located at the rear of the grounds at 122 Lincoln st., Newton Highlands, and is detached from the main house, so that clients are received in complete privacy and may discuss their business problems without interference or interruption.

The Newton office is in marked contrast to the Boston office in the Public Service Building, in that the suburban office has a distinctly colonial atmosphere, which is created by the pieces of furniture which Mr. Gove has selected from his collection of family heirlooms.

He is well qualified, both by character and experience, to render service to business, by installing accounting systems, auditing of accounts and business reports and in making tax returns. Business executives are more generally employing qualified experts to supervise their book-keeping offices and to guide them in financial matters.

Mr. Gove is a graduate of Boston University College of Business Administration, is a Certified Public Accountant of Massachusetts, is a member of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, of various Accounting Societies and many social organizations. He is active in the fraternity circles, Newton Highlands Men's Club and identified with many of the social and civil activities of Newton.

Mrs. Gove is active in community affairs and is well known in dramatic circles in Newton and with the Leland Powers School of Boston.

Mr. Gove has no hobbies, but finds considerable recreation in gardening and companionship with his two children.

Wagner Liked Silk Rustle
Richard Wagner, who exerted the greatest influence upon musical art in the last century, loved silk and the noise that silk made when handled so much that he would sometimes ask his wife to wear a silk dress and walk up and down the room so as to make the silk rustle. He said that it made his mind fertile.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, September 26.
The Golden Text is: "For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven" (Psalms 119:89).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Make me to understand the way of thy precepts: so shall I talk of thy wondrous works. . . . So shall I keep thy law continually for ever and ever. And I will walk at liberty: for I seek thy precepts" (Psalms 119:27, 44, 45).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The human mind is opposed to God and must be put off, as St. Paul declares. All that really exists is the divine Mind and its idea, and in this Mind the entire being is found harmonious and eternal. The straight and narrow way is to see and acknowledge this fact, yield to this power, and follow the leadings of truth" (p. 151).

National Clubs Will Assist In War On Crime

Character Education versus Crime is the challenging topic announced for special study and action during the coming year by the department of Education of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, of Baltimore, is chairman.

"Our annual crime bill is estimated at more than $15,000,000,000," said Mrs. Whitehurst. "This means an expenditure for crime every day of the year of $41,040,000 or $28,600 per minute. There is a per capita tax which must be assessed to pay this enormous crime bill; this averages a minimum of $120 a year for each citizen. Thirty-six murders are committed every day, one every forty minutes. Last year, 1,333,526 major crimes were committed, including 13,242 murders and manslaughter, 7,881 cases of rape, 55,660 cases of robbery, 47,534 cases of aggravated assault, 278,823 burglaries, 716,674 larcenies and 213,712 cases of automobile theft.

"Twenty per cent of our crime is committed by youths of less than voting age, and that means that the crime in our country includes more than 700,000 boys and girls, who at the very threshold of life are cut off from a happy and normal life. This appalling fact constitutes the reason that the department of Education will place special emphasis during the Club Year on Character Education. At our Council meeting in Tulsa last April the Federation endorsed a resolution approving of compulsory studies in character-building and crime prevention, and urged school authorities to include these studies in the curriculum.

"It is believed by many that we cannot obviate crime until we recreate religious faith. While many believe that religion should not be discussed in our schools, if this most vital subject is left to the church and to the home, and if the young people do not attend church and their parents do not teach religion in the home, where can the child get this information except at school? The institution of religion can do many things without violating the American principle of separation of church and state.

"Character education cannot, however, be carried on successfully without the co-operation and assistance of the home and the community. As the greater number of criminals emanate from homes of the underprivileged, we realize that we must strike at the conditions that create criminals.

We ask that newspapers play down crime and criminals as much as possible. Although the radio is carrying wonderful crime prevention programs, at the same time, in order to make programs realistic and thrilling, stories of crime are broadcast which cannot help intruding the average adventurous youngster. Motion pictures, although they have improved greatly in the past few years, continue to show gangster pictures in communities which are fertile fields for the development of criminals. The young people leave the theatre speculating on how they can outwit the police."

The General Federation has approved of Allied Youth, Inc., and the president, Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, is now serving on its Board of Trustees. This organization believes that American people trust two great forces—law and education—to assist them in controlling the traffic in alcoholic beverages, and is placing its chief emphasis on help for the schools in supplementing classroom instruction concerning alcohol, with a complete youth-led program, namely, a club with insignias, rituals, original type of recreation, and fact-finding procedure.

Mrs. Whitehurst is working in close co-operation with the Department of Justice, and the Office of Education of the United States Government. In a recent communication to her, Attorney General Cummings said:

"I have noted with interest the work which you, as chairman of the department of Education of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, are undertaking in the field of crime prevention. It is a good sign of progress in this field when so important an organization as yours realizes the strategic position which it occupies, and prepares for action. We should like very much to know more of the plans which your committee is formulating, of your ideas as to the functions of women's clubs in preventing crime, etc. It may be that some way will suggest itself in which our office may be of assistance to you in furthering your plans."

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, writing Mrs. Whitehurst said:

"I have been advised that the General Federation of Women's Clubs is urging compulsory studies in character education. It is my opinion that the teachers are in a particularly strategic position to perform splendidly effective work in properly training the youth of the country along constructive law-enforcement lines."

Dr. John W. Studebaker, Commissioner of Education, wrote Mrs. Whitehurst:

"My interest in crime prevention is evidenced by my inclusion of an item of $50,800 in my budget request for 1938 for making studies, investigations, and reports, regarding education for crime prevention and crime correction. . . . I wish you every success."

Massachusetts clubwomen will be sure to take up the program outlined by the National organization during the coming club year, and they are looking forward with keen interest to further news of how this program

General Federation Announces Radio Plans For Fall

The General Federation of Women's Clubs will be on the air again regularly in a nation-wide broadcast beginning Thursday, October 21st. "Education for Living," the keynote of this administration of the Federation, again will be the theme of these broadcasts, which will be presented over the blue network of the National Broadcasting Company.

The world's most eminent speakers, both women and men, here and abroad, are being secured for this series, which will occupy a half-hour period on the third Thursday of each month, at 4:40 p. m., Eastern Standard Time. Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, president of the Federation; Mrs. Edgar B. Meritt, chairman of the committee on Radio, and Miss Margaret Cuthbert, director of Women's Activities of the National Broadcasting Company, are responsible for the series of programs which will be broadcast this year. Some of the programs will take the form of several short talks, others will be dramatizations, and others will be forums. Orchestral music will be used to introduce and to close the programs.

Topics for the nine broadcasts are as follows: October, "Government Begins at Home," in which Mrs. Lawson will outline the aims of the Federation and she will present speakers on civic affairs; November, "Education Through Modern Mediums," with speakers on contemporary literature, newspapers, motion pictures and radio; December, "Will the American Home Survive?" with speakers on urban small town, and city life; January, "Crime Prevention and Parole," a dramatization of the work of the General Federation on this subject; February, "Wisdom and Health," in which public health experts will be heard; March, "Bills We All Help Pay," a round-table discussion of bills before Congress in which the General Federation is interested; April, "Women in Public Life," when internationally and nationally-known women will speak; May, "How the Rural Woman Meets Life." A March of Time dramatization will be given and June, "Effect of Organized Womanhood on Civilization." This will be an international program featuring prominent women from both the United States and foreign countries.

Another radio feature in which Clubs is co-operating will be of interest to all clubwomen. An international broadcast, with high-light speeches by Secretary of State Cordell Hull; President Alfaro Lopez of the Republic of Colombia; Premier Camille Chautemps of France, and other leading world statesmen, arranged by the National Peace Conference to open its campaign for World Economic Co-operation was presented on Sunday, September 19th, through the courtesy of the Columbia Broadcasting System, from 4 to 5:15 Eastern Standard Time. In subsequent programs problems of economic co-operation for peace will be discussed by outstanding authorities from the United States and Europe.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs is co-operating with the National Peace Conference through its department of International Relations, of which Miss Alva Long, of St. Louis, is chairman. "All of these broadcasts will offer a unique and easy opportunity for studying 'War in Relation to Economic Life,' a topic recently recommended by this department," said Miss Long. "They will also furnish an opportunity to hold 'radio parties' with a number of interested and informed people of divergent views may listen together to an unusual broadcast, take notes, and later discuss the speeches, checking upon the accuracy and merit of the statements."

"Eminent authorities agree that economic disarmament is one of the conditions on which peace depends, for peace cannot be produced like a rabbit out of a hat, but will come only as a result of rational co-operation on the part of the nations. Most wars are motivated by economic reasons, and measures which will bring about economic recovery are peace measures."

State Clubwomen to Attend N. Y. Forum

Many Massachusetts clubwomen are planning to attend the seventh Annual New York Herald-Tribune Forum on Current Problems, to be held on Monday and Tuesday, October 4th and 5th, at the Waldorf-Astoria. The general subject will be "The Second Discovery of America." Mrs. William Brown Meloney organizer of the Forum will be chairman. Mayor F. H. LaGuardia and Mrs. Ogden Reid, vice-president of the "New York Tribune, Inc.," will welcome the delegates. Opening the first session under the topic, "A Generation Finding Itself," will be Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. Mr. Stringfellow Barr, president of St. John's College, Annapolis, Md., will deliver the keynote speech, and he will be followed by Mr. James J. McEntee, assistant director of the CCC, who will talk on "Youth Conservation." Among the speakers at the various sessions will be Dorothy Thompson, Journalist and commentator; Mrs. Vincent Astor; Mr. Bruce Barton; General Hugh S. Johnson, Political Commentator; Representative Mary T. Norton, chairman of the House Committee on Labor and Mr. Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture. A major part of the Forum proceedings will be broadcast over a network of NBC, so that clubwomen may learn something of the discussion, if they can not attend.

Athletic Awards At Waban Plygd. Are Announced

With the announcement of the winners of Athletic Medals, the Waban Playground has brought to a close a successful season in which over 200 children participated in the games and handwork offered by the playground department. During the summer an average of 1000 persons used the playground each week. This number is slightly smaller than the average weekly attendance for a year ago, but the unusually intense heat experienced this summer can account for the decrease. The directors were able to report a perfect safety record again this year. During the past two seasons there has not been even a minor accident on the Waban Playground.

Under the supervision of the director Charles J. Doherty, who was assisted by Miss Mary Varra and Calvin Shedd, Waban children made over 150 articles of handicraft. Those children who participated in the various types of crafts acquired some degree of skill in the use of their hands, thus making a good beginning in the education of hands and fingers, an education that has been too much neglected in this machine age.

For the second season Waban again participated in scheduled games with other playgrounds in the city, an innovation begun last year thus putting the Waban Playground on an equal status with the other playgrounds of the district.

Each year for the past three years Mr. Doherty has given the Athletic Badge Tests to both the boys and girls of Waban. These tests were prepared for the Office of Education of the Department of the Interior by the National Recreation Association. They are graded tests for various age groups and are set up as a general standard for the country. The boys are tested for climbing, jumping, running and throwing ability. The girls are tested for ability in balancing, running, throwing, and also for skill in various games such as volleyball, tennis, basketball, and baseball. The tests are given twice each summer; once during the first week of the playground season and once during the last week. In this way candidates who do not pass the test the first time have a second opportunity at the end of the summer. Mr. Doherty gives the test to each person individually and keeps a record of their results from year to year and also from the beginning of the summer to the end. That the tests are very worth while is evidenced by the fact that many of the children who were unable to pass the test at the beginning of the summer finally succeeded in the last week. This improvement is due to the individual's own efforts to improve in whatever phase of the test he was found to be weak.

All those who successfully meet the requirements of one or more of the tests receive a bronze medal. The boys' medal was designed by the famous sculptor of athletic figures, Dr. R. Tait McKenzie, and depicts a hurdler in the midst of a jump. The medal for the first test is distinguished by a star, that for the second test by two stars, and that for the third test by three stars. The girls' medal is identified by the figure of a girl playing basketball. Engraved certificates are also awarded to each successful contestant. These awards are purchased with money presented to the Waban Playground by the Waban Improvement Society. The directors have used part of this money to purchase prizes for the various show days and special events held during the summer.

The following children have passed the various tests and their medals and certificates will be delivered to them: First Test: Jacob Bruce, Gordon Cameron, Dana Danforth, Edward Herrick, William Hooper, Herbert Lewis, Richard Manville, Edward McGinnis, Douglas Smith, and Robert Wood. Also Elaine Baldwin, Gloria Wells, and Olga Wells. Successful contestants in the second test were Gordon Cameron, William Hooper, and Herbert Lewis. In the girls' test Eleanor Greene, Louise Green, and Gloria Wells earned their awards. Eleanor Greene and Gloria Wells were the only entrants who passed the third test.

Boston Business Institute Executive-Secretarial Work

Many young men who have finished High School and are not going to college will find it definitely to their advantage to train for a position as an assistant to an executive.

Not only are there positions open in this field but also to such young men with ability there are excellent opportunities for advancement to good company positions.

The Executive-Secretarial Department of Boston Business Institute offers a one-year intensive course which gives a thorough working knowledge of typewriting, shorthand, voice writing, dictation, business correspondence, and office procedure. These courses are given along with accounting and business administration and other college subjects in the field of modern business.

This training is available in either the day or evening division.

At the present time in the regular division of Boston Business Institute, which provides comprehensive and practical training for successful careers in business, two scholarships are open to college graduates of ability. Replace Sodium
Lights On Pike

Twelve 1000-candlepower sodium lights, which for the past few years have been used to illuminate the Worcester turnpike between Parker and Boylston sts. at Newton Highlands, have been replaced with the regular 600-candlepower incandescent lights used on the pike. The sodium lamps were installed as an experiment by the Edison Company and the city was charged $65 annually per lamp, the price which is charged for 600-candlepower lights. Recently, Street Commissioner Mahoney was informed by the Edison Company that if the city desired to continue the sodium lights, it would have to make a 5-year contract at $7450 per lamp. Mr. Mahoney was of the opinion that the extra cost for these lights is not warranted.

The Worcester turnpike in Newton is one of the most lighted traffic arteries in the State. The sodium lights were placed 150 feet apart. Some autoists contend there are too many lights on the pike. The contention is made by the manufacturer of the sodium lights, and some traffic engineers, that the yellow light diffused by sodium lamps is much less glaring than that from ordinary incandescent lamps, and thus they contribute to traffic safety. It is claimed they give twice the visibility of incandescent lamps. Edison engineers contend that the trial given the sodium lights in Newton was not fair because incandescent lights on either side along the pike contributed a glare. Sodium lights in Massachusetts have been used mostly for illumination of bridges.

New Employees In Health Dept.

Miss Phyllis Quimby of 74 Warren st., Newton Centre, has been appointed dental hygienist for the Newton Health Department, and Dorothy LeFurge of 12 Edinboro st., Newtonville, a temporary school nurse. John C. Madden was chosen temporary chairman of the Board of Health at the last meeting of the Board.

Students Venerated in France

In the Twelfth century students and study were so highly thought of in France that Philip II made the students' quarters inviolable and their persons sacred. The law went so far as to make it the citizen's duty to arrest any one who dared raise his hand against a student, no matter what the provocation.

Spiders Not Named as Insects
Spiders are not classified as insects but belong to the group known as arachnids.

Elect Irving Legion Commander

J. Sherman Irving of Auburndale was elected Commander of Newton Post No. 48, American Legion last week Thursday evening at the annual "Chow Night." Commander Irving succeeds Leon H. Maye who presided at the business meeting which followed a program of speaking and entertainment. Among the speakers Mayor Edwin O. Childs, County Commander George Flynn, Dept. Vice-Commander Jack Maguire, Dept. Commander Raymond McEvoy, Norfolk County Commander Phillip Wallace, James Forbes, director of the Newton Trade School, Street Commissioner Charles Mahoney, Clerk of Courts James P. Gallagher, and Commander Mayer.

Other officers elected were: John B. Foley, senior vice-commander; Carl P. Peterson, junior vice-commander; J. Joseph Ward, chaplain; Frank R. Gaw, Daniel P. Murphy and John F. Nolan, executive committee at large.

Executive committee members elected by districts were: Nonantum, Ernest J. Currier; Newtonville, Francis V. Terry; West Newton, Edmond H. White; Auburndale, Ralph P. Heald; Lower Falls, George Tobin; Waban, Dennis F. Curtin; Upper Falls, Daniel J. Kerr; Newton Highlands, Daniel E. Crowley; Newton Centre, George F. Hennrikus; Chestnut Hill, Philip W. Carter; Thompsonville, Michael Tornabene. Edmund T. Dungan, P.C., was elected a trustee of the permanent fund for five years.

Veteran Postman
Retires Oct. 1

John F. Gallagher of 46 Clarendon st., Newtonville, will retire on Oct. 1st from the United States postal service after faithfully delivering mail to residents of Newton. Mr. Gallagher was born in Newton 65 years ago, the son of Owen and Ann (Ryan) Gallagher. On November 14, 1896, he was appointed a substitute letter carrier at the Newton postoffice, the only part of Newton at that time where there was free delivery of mail. There were then eight regular carriers at the Newton postoffice. On July 1, 1897, free delivery of mail was instituted in other parts of Newton, including Newtonville, and Mr. Gallagher was one of the three men appointed as regular carriers at the Newtonville postoffice. For 40 years he delivered mail in the section bounded by the Boston & Albany tracks, Lowell, Commonwealth and Forest aves. Mr. Gallagher is married and has five children. He has been prominent for many years in the Knights of Columbus. He is a Past Grand Knight of Newton Council, has been its Financial Secretary for 21 years, and is a member of Bishop Cheverus Assembly, Fourth Degree.

Young Republicans Want New Leaders

Demand That Party Be Revitalized

The young Republicans of Newton this week issued a call for the "revitalizing and rebuilding of the Republican party of Newton into a truly representative and effective organ of the people." A statement was issued by the executive committee of the Young Republican Club after a meeting of that group at the home of the club's president, Frederick P. Waltham, Jr. The statement said in part:

"There are certain situations within the Republican Party in the City of Newton, the State and the nation which we feel are in need of immediate and drastic attention. Undoubtedly there are a great many capable and worthy Republicans serving on the Republican City Committee. In fact several members of the Committee have cooperated actively with the Club and have demonstrated a real constructive interest in the welfare and progress of the Republican Party. However, when there is deadwood at the top of the tree, the tree is in danger. If the tree is in danger, the deadwood must be cut out; and the puppets, appointees and twigs on the deadwood must be cleared away from the green foliage.

"The job of revitalizing the Republican Party and building it into a truly representative and effective organ of the people starts right in our own back yards. The Newton Republican City Committee must be revitalized and built into an active, wide-awake truly representative organization; one which can interpret the up-to-date political aims, beliefs and goals of all Newton Republicans.

"This dissatisfaction with the present Republican set-up in Newton is not a question of young Republicans versus old. There are many Republicans well on in their years, both in and out of positions of party responsibility, for whom we have every admiration and respect. Rather than being a question of youth versus age, this question is one of constructive cooperation and true representation versus high politics, inertia and political sit-down tactics."

Roger Sherman
Not Forgotten on Constitution Day

Representative in the first Congress under the Constitution, became a member of the United States Senate, and died in New Haven on July 20, 1793. A self-taught man, he received the honorary degree of A. M. from Yale College in 1788.

Many years ago Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., erected a granite memorial near the site of Roger Sherman's birthplace on Waverley ave. The stone stands on a grass plot where some day a sidewalk will be built. The surrounding territory was thinly settled until recent years. Now the neighborhood is being rapidly developed into home sites. The land adjoining the Sherman memorial is one of the few lots in the section not built upon. Trees and shrubs grow rankly behind the stone and nearly conceal it. It has been suggested that the city acquire a small area abutting the memorial.

Friday, Sept. 17th, was the day on which the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution was celebrated. Sesqui-centennial parades and programs of various sorts were held all over the United States. But here in Newton no official recognition was paid at the site of the birthplace of one of the men largely responsible for the framing and adoption of the Constitution. But Roger Sherman was not entirely forgotten. At 11 o'clock Friday morning the 6th grade pupils of the John Ward School, which is located about a quarter of a mile from the memorial, marched to the place in charge of their teacher, Miss Helen Dempsey. The children placed a vase containing two small United States flags and a bunch of gladioli at the base of the monument. At 1:30 P.M. a group of Newton public officials, as private citizens, laid a memorial wreath on the monument. Included in the group were the three Aldermen from Ward 2, Clarence Colby, George Rayson and James B. Melcher and Representative Warren K. Brimblecom. They were joined by Dr. Edward Mellus of the Newton Board of Health, who resides nearby, and who has named a street on his property after Roger Sherman.

Other officers elected were: John B. Foley, senior vice-commander; Carl P. Peterson, junior vice-commander; J. Joseph Ward, chaplain; Frank R. Gaw, Daniel P. Murphy and John F. Nolan, executive committee at large.

West Newton
Youth Fined $30

Charles T. Holloway, 3rd, of 39 Colbert rd., West Newton, was fined $25 by Judge Weston in the Newton court last Friday for not stopping his car when ordered to do so by a policeman. He was fined $6 for driving without proper lights. Patrolman Lupien said that at 1:30 a. m. on Sept. 2 he heard two youths in a car on Gordon rd. using profanity. As he approached the car the driver turned off the lights and drove away rapidly. Lupien took the registration numbers and questioned Holloway the next day.

Fined $50 For Drunken Driving

James Canessa of 216 Webster st., Needham was fined $50 by Judge Weston in the Newton court on last Friday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was also fined $10 for driving without a license. Canessa was arrested on the night of September 6.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

NEWTON ELEVEN SET FOR CANTAB INVASION

When the Newton and Cambridge high school teams square off for the opening kickoff on Dickinson Field Saturday afternoon, the 1937 edition of Coach Ralph Sanborn's Newton High Team will be out to carry on where they left off in last year's 20-7 victory. For Newton rooters that opening flurry of touchdowns against Cambridge was one of the bright spots of the 1936 season.

Out on the thick green turf of Dickinson Stadium footballs have filled the air and veterans and newcomers alike have made Coach Sanborn and his coaching staff smile to themselves in spite of the fact that Ralph insists that at team is never really good until they show what they can do against another team. But after looking the well balanced Newton team over, a word of praise in regard to their work-outs over the past two weeks is in order.

In the line Newton looks strong. It is an experienced line that moves and acts as if it knew its football. From end to end the line has size and weight, and when the opening whistle sends them into action Newton rooters should see a forward wall that will hold its own with any line it will face this season. Five regulars from the 1936 team will answer the opening kickoff. One new face will be among these of the forward wall that will line up against Cambridge on Saturday. Lining up a six-foot center, has shown enough in practice to start at that position, and Coach Sanborn believes that Newton rooters will hear a great deal about this lad before the season is over. The backfield is fast and handles the ball carrying with speed and deception. They will line up with Fisher, who has been showing well in practice, and Fitzgerald at the halfback positions, Castoldi at fullback, with Sohaski calling the signals. Castoldi, veteran hard running back, has been serving warning to opposing teams that he is out to make a place for himself in the football sun, and by long drills to perfect his kicking off yardage in practice the big fellow should have a great season at the power post.

The team is not taking the Cambridge game lightly. With a limited number of plays for the opening game, Coach Sanborn has been sending the team through long drills to perfect their block and build team play. They have drilled during the past week on fundamentals, devoting Monday to a thorough blocking and tackling drill. Tuesday the team was sent through their first real kicking drill of the season. At the close of the Tuesday drill a scrimmage was held in which every member of the big squad had a chance to show his wares. Wednesday afternoon the squad went to Needham for a practice scrimmage against the Needham High squad and yesterday held the usual kicking drill. Today the squad will taper off with a light limbering up session.

The 1937 Newton team will not lack size. The ends are rangy and heavy enough to flank the experienced line, while the backs are also more rangy than usual. Among the newcomers who have been crowding into the picture are Cheslerone, a centre, held back last year on account of illness. Lining the boy who will start at the first string pivot post; Hughes, a rangy, who is fast finding himself; Mason, a hard hitting tackle; Robey, a bucking back who will see action when he becomes eligible this week; Myers and Vaughan, two centres who have been converted into guards, and others too numerous to mention.

The first string lineup for Newton will run their plays with Kline and Colantonio at ends, Weldon and Balbus at tackle, Duffy and Calvin at the guards, Lining at centre. In the backfield, Sahaski will call the signals. Fisher and Fitzgerald will be at the halfback berths, and Castoldi will be the battering ram at fullback.

The first string reserves have Hutchings and Myers at guards, Castoldi and Mason at tackle, Paglia and Hughes at the flanks, Hinds, the fleet sprinter at quarterback, with Dexter, McQuire and Bill Pescosolido as his running mates.

With an unbalanced line and unbalanced backfield showing to advantage in practice, the new Newton High team packs plenty of power and appears to have the punch to go a long way in quest of 1937 gridiron honors. In the words of Coach Sanborn, "We are saying little, but hoping for a great deal," the situation at Newton's picture stadium looks highly encouraging.

FERGUSON DETHRONED AS NATIONAL CHAMPION

Clinton Ferguson of Waban was dethroned as national amateur champion outboard motor boat driver last weekend in the events held on the James River at Richmond, Virginia. The young Waban driver dropped his titles in all three classes of the events. He established one of four new world records in the final races which completed the regatta.

In the Class B amateur event Ferguson turned in a speed of 52.594 miles an hour to break the mark of 51.988 which he set in 1936 at Red Bank, N. J.

BEE'S STARS TO ATTEND
TWI-LEAGUE BANQUET

The final pre-banquet meeting of the directors of the Newton Twi-League was held Wednesday evening at the Newton Centre Recreation building. Reports were made by the various committee chairmen and were very encouraging. The program has been carefully planned with six acts of vaudeville preceding the awarding of the gold baseballs to the champions of the two leagues. The banquet will be held Wednesday evening, September 29th. In addition to "Bob" Smith father of the Royals' pitcher Bob Smith, Jr., Hank Gowdy will be present and there is an even chance that Manager "Bill" McKechie will also find it possible to attend. Pitches Fette, Turner and Danny McFayden and catcher Al Lopez will come or send capable first string substitutes. Lopez started for the banquet a year ago but lost his way and will try to make amends this year.

Over two hundred tickets are already in circulation but there are still some to be had by interested fans. These may be purchased at Playground office, City Hall; Y. M. C. A. or from any team manager. Mayor Edwin O. Childs will make the principal address. Other speakers will be Superintendent Ernst Hermann of the Playground Dept.; Ralph C. Henry, Chairman of the Playground Commission and two of the Bee's coaches, Alderman Jack Barwise will again act as toastmaster. The City of Newton Men's Tennis champions will also receive their awards from Mayor Childs at the banquet.

S. P. Burton Home
Burglarized

The residence of Smith P. Burton, Jr. at 621 Centre st., Newton, corner of Bellevue st., was entered by a burglar on Monday night and ransacked. Entrance was effected by the thief climbing a porch and forcing a window. The break was discovered by painters who came to the house to work on Tuesday morning. They found the front door of the house open, and notified Robert Kelly, gardener at the Burton estate. Kelly's sleeping quarters is a room on the second floor of the barn at the rear of the property. Mr. Burton was sent for at his country home in Andover. He found that a small sum of cash had been taken from a desk drawer, and some clothing stolen. The Burton home had been burglarized a couple of times previously in recent years.
